

Monkey Wrench Into Plan

Taft Comes Out Against Income Tax Reduction Before July 1

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) tossed a monkey wrench into plans of House Republicans for a quick cutback in income taxes with an announcement today he will oppose making any reduction effective before July 1.

This would halve the $3,500,000,000 reduction which a 20 percent cut would make over a full calendar year.

Taft told a reporter that while he remains convinced income taxes can be slashed a net of 20 percent, he thinks individuals ought to continue paying at the present rate until the new government fiscal year begins next July.

This would keep payroll withholding taxes at their present level for the first half of 1947. After July 1 they would drop by whatever percentage congress decides.

Proposes Rebates
For persons who pay their full year's taxes in advance March 15, the senator proposed rebates later covering the last six months of the year.

This stand by Taft, chairman of the senate Republican policy committee and a member of the finance committee, collided directly with the announced intention of Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the house ways and means committee to rush through a tax bill making reductions retroactive to Jan. 1. Knutson's committee has ordered brief hearings beginning Feb. 19.

These will be limited to treasury and internal revenue officials, but Knutson invited all persons "interested in the question of tax reduction" to file briefs with the committee outlining their arguments.

No Particular Method
In explaining the decision to limit the hearings, Knutson said in a statement that his measure, calling for a 20 percent across-the-board tax slash, except in the bracket above $300,000, is retroactive to Jan. 1 and added:

"To prolong the hearings indefinitely might make it necessary to defer reduction on withholding tax to May 1 or even later."

Meanwhile Taft has not committed himself to any particular method of attaining the overall 20 percent cut.

The Ohio senator said he does not believe the Republican-controlled congress can afford to increase the government's anticipated deficit of $2,300,000,000 for the financial year ending June 30. A 20 percent tax reduction, carried back to Jan. 1, would pile an estimated $1,250,000,000 or more on this deficit.

Could Increase Deficit
"By cutting the budget for the year's expenditures after July 1, we are going to have some room to reduce taxes," Taft said. "But if we put in tax reduction before then, we'll merely be increasing the deficit that the government piles up this year."

Any event, Taft added, he does not look for any final action by congress until late in May or June. He apparently foresaw the possibility of a presidential veto which might slow up, if not defeat, any tax reduction.

Sedalia On Airport List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration today recommended that 187 airports in Missouri and 178 in Kansas be constructed or improved within the next three years.

They are among 4,431 airports in the entire country which Administrator T. P. Wright said should be built or improved in that period.

The list summarizes the national airport plan which the administrator is required to prepare and revise annually under terms of the Federal Aid Airport Act.

From it will be selected the projects to be included in the construction program for the 1948 fiscal year, starting July 1, depending upon the amount of money appropriated by congress and the relative urgency of each project.

Sedalia is included among the 187 Missouri airports listed.

Revenue Collectors To Aid Taxpayers

To assist the taxpayers of this community in preparing their 1946 returns or estimates for 1947, Deputy Revenue Collectors William Steele and Mr. McInerney will be at the internal revenue office in the Sedalia post office building from 17 to 28 and March 3 to 8, Dan M. Nee, collector of internal revenue has announced.

Weather Will Change Slowly For the Better

By The Associated Press
The weather of Kansas and Missouri today (Sunday) and tomorrow will change slowly—for the better—with fair skies and rising temperatures.

In Missouri today the mercury will reach the middle 20s in the northeast and the low 30s in the southwest. And in Kansas the range will be from mid-20s in the northeast to mid-30s in the west and south.

The chill wind will freshen somewhat today, preventing a rapid rise in temperatures, but the trend will be toward moderation, the forecaster promised.

Traces of snow were recorded at scattered points in both states yesterday.

In Missouri the low was 4 above at Springfield and Columbia, and the high was 22 at Joplin.

Slowly Rising Temperature In Midwest

Unexpected Freeze In Florida Damaged Fruit, Vegetables

The coldest temperature reading in Sedalia Saturday was five degrees above zero at 7 a. m. The temperature was but slightly higher throughout the day and finally settled to 8 degrees that evening at 6 p. m.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8—(AP)—Most of the nation was locked tonight in the grip of a spreading cold wave that posed a new threat to southern vegetable, citrus and tobacco crops.

Temperatures were below normal from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast and freezing weather was bearing down again on the tobacco growing regions of Georgia and the citrus and vegetable belt of Florida.

Florida, where an unexpected freeze damaged the vegetable and citrus crops Wednesday night, was warned to expect low ground temperatures ranging from 17 to 38 degrees by Sunday morning.

A strong northwest wind sent thermometers dropping in southern Georgia. Tobacco growers were warned to get plant beds under cover. Atlanta expected a low of 18 degrees. The Georgia crop brought $50,000,000 last year.

Warmer In Midwest
A moderating trend started on the east slopes of the Rockies and weather forecasters said the midwest could expect slowly rising temperatures on Monday.

Winds, which reached a maximum of more than 60 miles an hour yesterday in parts of the Dakotas and Nebraska, died down and diminishing winds were forecast for other midwest states.

There were occasional snow flurries in the midwest and more than seven inches of snow fell at La Guardia airport in New York.

Weather forecasters said no new bitter cold was in immediate prospect anywhere in the country. The coldest temperatures in the nation were recorded Saturday in the Dakotas, with readings ranging down to nine below. However, sub zero readings extended as far east as Ohio.

Shipment of natural gas supplies continued in Kentucky, Missouri and Ohio, with thousands of persons in gas-using industries taking enforced layoffs from work. In Ohio, Governor Thomas J. Herbert proclaimed an emergency which required conservation by all natural gas users as sub zero temperatures were reported from all sections of the state.

Rocket Hits Car, Two Dead

UNION CITY, Okla., Feb. 8—(AP)—Two persons were killed at 12:45 p. m. today when the north-bound Rock Island Rocket from Dallas to Kansas City struck their automobile at a railway crossing here.

Killed instantly were George E. B. Ulfers, 64-year-old farmer of near Union City, and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Ulfers, 49. State Highway Patrolman Garland Eldridge said their car was thrown 120 feet through the air by the spreading train.

William Matson, 67, of El Reno, Okla., was engineer of the six-coach train and R. C. Dyer, Fort Worth, Texas, was conductor. Union City is eight miles south of El Reno and about 25 miles west of Oklahoma City. The train was undamaged and proceeded after the accident.

Nations Must Know Humility Before Peace Can Be Secured

Dr. Richard Trelease, Episcopal rector of Kansas City, delivered the first in a series of lectures on International Relations and World Peace, before meeting of the Sedalia Community Teachers Association held at Smith Cotton high school Saturday morning.

The subject of his address was, "For the Healing of the Nations." Dr. Trelease stated that humility is one of the greatest lessons we need to know before the healing of the nations can be brought about. Adding he said: "Christ in his teachings emphasized humility, not as a long faced man of sorrow and grief, but as a man with a sense of humor, for Christ realized a sense of humor was necessary to meet the great problems in life. There was no in of demarcation between spiritual and material as he healed the sick and clothed the poor."

"A healing of the nations will come about only by considering both the big and the little people before deciding what to do. In a democracy, in a sense, there are no big and little people, for every little one has a chance to grow and every big one has a chance to shrink. The little people want ultimate justice. So do the big people. Therefore they stand together on the ultimate goal."

Leveling Up Process
If we are going to do anything about the healing of the nations it must be positive, constructive. There must be a love for them in the broadest sense, in the sense of wanting the state for the others that one wants for himself. There must be an equality of opportunity. People want to feel they have a right to develop themselves. There must be a leveling up process, not a leveling down process. There must be an equal opportunity for every man and woman to realize the fullness of their power in the sight of Almighty God."

The business meeting was presided over by Edwin T. Martin, president of the association. Mrs. Nadine Peak, accompanied by Miss Marion Smith sang two solos, "The Desert Song" and "Amour."

Largest Crowd In Years At GOP Gathering

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—Missouri Republicans reached the climax tonight of their annual Lincoln Day gathering after a series of group meetings which attracted the largest crowd of leaders and workers in years.

Highlight of the day's program was an address tonight by Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, a classmate of James P. Kem, the state's junior senator.

Senator Kem and Senator Forrest C. Donnell were honored late today at a reception.

To the helm of the Missouri Association of Republicans, the delegates elevated R. J. (Bus) King, Jr., St. Clair, Republican floor leader in the state house of representatives. The organization is the sponsor of the Lincoln Day gathering.

Brewster Speaks
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—America's aviation system must reach to the remotest corners of the earth, but "America is supine surrendering the skies to Britain," Owen Brewster, Republican senator from Maine, declared here tonight.

"The English calmly appropriate $600,000,000 of our money to take over world aviation—even while we read daily of their economic destruction," continued Brewster in a speech climaxing a group of Lincoln Day meetings which attracted the largest crowd of Missouri Republicans in years.

By the phrase, "our money," Brewster referred to the American loan to Britain.

Edison's Desk, Sealed 15 Years, Opened

By Milton Marmor

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 8—(AP)—Thomas Alva Edison's famous roltop desk—sealed since his death more than 15 years ago—was opened today by his son and was found to contain scientific materials, but mostly personal effects of Edison the man.

There were stomach pills and mouth wash, bills accumulated for decades, jokes written in his own hand, a book he never had time to autograph for a young girl in Chicago, but nothing startling except perhaps a small vial of uranium nitrate.

His son, Charles Edison, former New Jersey governor and former secretary of the navy, supervised the unsealing and study of the desk. Standing besides him was Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, widow of the great inventor.

Charles Edison, with a big smile on his face, at one point stopped reading a pencilled piece of note paper and said "censored." The note contained a story Edison had heard at one time. Another piece of paper bore the legend, "when down in the mouth remember Jonah, he came out all right."

Impressive Compilation
It was an impressive compilation of Edisonia. Notebooks with the half-printed scrawl of the inventor; diagrams of something on which he was working; a piece of goldenrod rubber on which he was experimenting when he died; a box of ancient cigars; maps of New Jersey; and—as indicative of the fact that the genius Edison was just as human as the next man—a book of accounts dated April, 1904, and still lying in one of the cubbyholes.

There were two fountain pens which Charles Edison opened to find no sign of any message left behind by his father. Two mediums had said the pens would contain a message of valuable information for science.

Unstarted was a roll of chewing tobacco. Edison, as a telegrapher had acquired the habit, but in his later years had turned to cigars. Also, apparently unused, was a hearing device. Edison was deaf since childhood and as his son explained he received hundreds of presents of hearing devices which he refused to use.

London Suffers From the Cold

By Tom Williams

LONDON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Britain prepared tonight for a major industrial shutdown amid warnings by a labor spokesman that the coal crisis threatened an end to the labor government and "socialism in our time."

While Emanuel Shinwell, fuel minister, declared "complete disaster" awaited Britain if industry and the public failed to carry out his sweeping conservation measures, almost chaotic conditions were reported among industries in the huge industrial belts about London, Manchester and Birmingham where 4,000,000 will be thrown out of work beginning at midnight Sunday.

Shinwell's order halting electric power to industry in the biggest export-producing areas of England and cutting off current from domestic uses—including homes, theaters, stores, offices and restaurants—for five hours daily, sent puzzled factory managers into hurried conferences. Their worry was to find some way, if possible, to minimize the effect of the power blackout.

Prominent St. Louisan Shot By Daughter

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8—(AP)—J. Vincent Reardon, 58, prominent St. Louis business man, and 13-year-old Michael A. D'Arcy were dead tonight as a result of a series of tragic circumstances involving Reardon's 14-year-old daughter, Mary.

Reardon was shot through the head early today as he was driving home with the two teen-agers who had been thwarted in an attempt to run away together. The shot caused Reardon to lose control of the car and it plunged into a ditch beside a county road, D'Arcy receiving injuries from which he died late today. Reardon was dead upon arrival at a hospital. The girl received head lacerations.

Didn't Like Girls' School
St. Louis County Coroner Arnold J. Willmann quoted the girl as saying she shot her father with a .25-caliber German Mauser automatic pistol which young D'Arcy had brought along.

"I couldn't go back home because I knew my parents would put me in a girls' school. I used to go there and I didn't like it," the coroner quoted Mary as saying.

The girl, heavy set and large for her age, was taken to the county juvenile detention home after, Chief Deputy Sheriff William Smith said, she signed a six-page typewritten statement admitting the shooting.

Told by sheriff's deputies that young D'Arcy had died, she replied, "well, of course I wanted to know."

Prosecuting Attorney Stanley Wallach said the girl told him: "Well, I might be executed or again I might be sent to reform school. But that might not be so bad, because I understand they have lots of books in reform school and I like to read."

No charges have been filed against her.

The coroner and other officers gave this account of the tragedy: About 8 o'clock last night Mary and Michael planned to leave home together and took a taxicab to a tourist camp to Wentzville, Mo., 40 miles from St. Louis.

Found Two Shells
Early this morning, Reardon, having learned of their whereabouts, appeared at the tourist camp and started taking them back to their homes in his car. Michael and Mary were in the back seat. At a point on Clayton road not far from the Reardons' fashionable suburban home, he asked Michael for the pistol which he said he used in target practice.

She then fired at her father. She did not know how many times she pulled the trigger, but officers found that two shells had been discharged. One bullet entered back of Reardon's neck and came out of his right eye.

Mary and Michael are ninth grade students at Wydown junior high school. Reardon was president of the Reardon Co., paint manufacturing firm.

D'Arcy is a deputy collector of internal revenue and formerly operated the Shubert theater here.

Wanted To Leave Town
Mary told reporters she and the D'Arcy boy just "wanted to get out of town."

"We were not engaged to be married," she said. "We weren't planning on getting married. I was going to get a job as a waitress—or work in a dime store in Chicago or New York—and Michael was going to go on his own way. We had $4 between us."

The girl displayed no outward emotion as she discussed the tragedy.

Ausby Atkinson, co-proprietor of the tourist camp, said the pair "gave the impression" they were brother and sister when they registered and explained they were awaiting the arrival of their father.

Atkinson said he thought both the youngsters were "18 or 19 years old—they were both big for their age."

Woman Beaten To Death

Zwahlen, a farmer, was quoted by Sheriff Petty as saying "the Lord made me do it. It was an act of God."

Triplets Born in Rockford, Ill., Hospital
ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 8—(AP)—James Steward Love, 34, waited outside the maternity ward of Swedish-American hospital early today and leafed through a magazine. A story about babies caught his eye.

Love, waiting for his first child to be born, read on until he came to a part that said triplets were born once in 8,000 deliveries.

Just then the doctor interrupted his reading: "You're a father," he said. "Two boys and a girl."

Thirty-two year old Mrs. Love, and the babies, weighing two pounds each, were doing very well today.

Union Will Not Withdraw Any Portal Suits

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Maurice Sugar, general counsel for the CIO United Automobile Workers said today his union will not withdraw any of its portal-pay suits against the automotive industry which approached $1,000,000,000.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard's decision dismissing the Mount Clemens Pottery Company case "wouldn't necessarily apply to other cases," Sugar told reporters.

"This is on the assumption that even the Mount Clemens' decision sticks," Sugar added.

There is no assurance that it will stick when it goes to the higher courts.

"The CIO-UAW will not withdraw any of its cases."

Latest X-Ray Equipment at The Bothwell

Machine Ordered Over Two Years Ago Just Received

The latest design in x-ray equipment has been installed at the Bothwell hospital and is now in full operation. The new equipment places the Bothwell x-ray service equal to practically any hospital in Missouri outside of St. Louis and Kansas City, and those operated by the State of Missouri.

It is a 200 M. A. combination radiographic and fluoroscopic x-ray unit, designed for doing all types of x-ray examinations demanded at the present time by the medical profession.

The equipment is compact, much easier to operate to the best advantage of both patient and the x-ray technician. The table is operated by motor mechanism, requiring greatly facilitated positioning for various types of examination.

Permits Fine Detail
The x-ray tube is of a most recent design, which permits the use of high emergencies, with extreme fine detail. It has a much larger capacity than the x-ray equipment formerly used and does a better quality of work.

The dark room, used in connection with the development of the films has been equipped with the latest methods for developing, drying and storing of the films.

The new apparatus was ordered by the John Homer Bothwell Memorial hospital board more than two years ago. At the time the order was placed it cost approximately $8,000. Delivery was delayed until the present time. The hospital board, having signed contracts for the costs at that time, has saved more than $2,500 the present day costs of the same equipment having advanced that much.

The dark room has been enlarged and other improvements in the x-ray room have been made.

Portable Machine
The hospital also has one of the latest types of portable x-ray machines, which is used on patients who cannot be moved from their bed or hospital room. It likewise was recently obtained at a saving over the present day costs.

The equipment was purchased from the General Electric X-Ray Corporation, Chicago, Ill., a division of the General Electric Co., and through J. F. Van Osdel, 1405 South Carr avenue, Missouri representative for the corporation.

Ralph Carrel, 1325 South Carr avenue, is in charge of the laboratory department at the hospital, and has as his assistant Mrs. Mary Diltney, 1205 West Fifth street. They have had charge of the x-ray equipment at the hospital for some time, and have recently received complete instructions on the operation of the new machines.

Pottery Workers Lose Suit

Court Dismisses Case, Trail-Blazer For Billions in Portal Claims

DETROIT, Feb. 8—(AP)—The momentous Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. case was thrown out of a federal court today but the $4,800,000 portal-to-portal pay battle still continued.

U. S. District Judge Frank A. Picard, ruling against portal time for the pottery workers, dismissed the Mt. Clemens case with a denial of damages.

Industry hailed the verdict. But the immediate reaction of CIO labor, mainly responsible for the avalanche of portal suits across the nation, was that the fight wouldn't stop here.

Ahead also was a likely final determination from the supreme court, itself responsible for the federal court's attention to the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens dispute.

Judge Picard held the pottery workers' portal time was too trifling for damages.

Not Liable Prior To June 10
The court said further industry should not be held liable for portal claims prior to last June 10. That was the day the supreme court set forth the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens case.

The National Association of Manufacturers, through President Earl Bunting, said Judge Picard's verdict presumably meant the "vast majority" of portal suits "no longer have any standing."

At the same time Bunting called on congress for clarification of the fair labor standards act to avoid further confusion.

Similar remarks also were heard in congress.

On the other hand the CIO's United Auto Workers union, which alone has filed nearly $1,000,000,000 in portal suits, held its ground.

Union attorney Maurice Sugar said the auto union would not withdraw any of its suits.

Sugar said Judge Picard's decision "wouldn't necessarily apply to other cases." He also called attention to the likelihood of a supreme court test.

There was no immediate comment from the auto industry's "big three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—from whom more than a half billion dollars in portal pay has been asked.

To Higher Court
The government, in entering the Mt. Clemens case, said the suit would be carried to the supreme court no matter what Picard ruled.

Attorney Edward Lamb, who brought the Mt. Clemens suit originally, warned industry the issue was not settled. He said the Mt. Clemens case was not a "truly portal-to-portal case" in view of "limiting facts."

The Mt. Clemens case, Lamb said, was not comparable in the portal theory with instances in steel, autos and other industry.

Today's court decision was described as "far-reaching" by Frank E. Cooper, a pottery company attorney.

Cooper said it "clearly points out" that last June's supreme court verdict "furnishes no basis for the many fantastic claims" by labor in portal suits.

"Judge Picard's decision makes it plain," Cooper added, "that the judgment of the supreme court did not hold what some people were led to think had been decided."

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—When the applications of West Point football stars Blanchard, Davis and Poole for leave to play pro football came across the desk of Chief of Staff Eisenhower, the five-star general experienced a twinge of nostalgia.

Back in 1914, Ike soldiered along the Mexican border under the late General Fred Funston—a dull, drab assignment which was lightened as much as possible by various types of athletic contests.

Eisenhower, then a first lieutenant, was assigned the task of developing a pigskin crew and pitched in with such enthusiasm that his team mopped up every other army outfit along the border. It even taught some of the universities of the southwest a few fine points of the game.

The season was scarcely over when coaching offers began to pour in on Eisenhower—a big money in the days when a lieutenant's stipend, including all allowances, ran around $1,800 a year.

The temptation to resign and take one of the golden offers was great, as Ike recently confided to a congressional friend.

"But," he dded a little wistfully, "I had elected the army as a career; the glittering offers were declined."

"So," continued the Chief of Staff, "my sympathies were somewhat with Blanchard, Davis and Poole, though in fairness to the government, I had to disapprove their requests."

"I hope, however," he concluded, "that all of them will be wearing five stars some day."

Note—The next year, 1915, Lt. Eisenhower was given permission by General Funston to coach the Peacock Military Academy at San Antonio in his off time. He received $250. The team won five out of six games.

Cassie didn't mean to sound unkind. It was just that she felt antagonistic toward all the Hamiltons and Cavendishes of the town. "Could I bring the note out? I want to explain about last night."

"About eight?"
Parker Hamilton was taller than she had remembered. Of course she'd been too excited last night to pay much attention to him. His brown eyes were pleasant and there was a kind look to his firm mouth.

He stood at the screen door, as embarrassed as she. Papa took his pipe out of his mouth and frowned from beneath beetle brows. Mama stopped her rocking, her fat face sullen, her lips drawn into a thin line of disapproval.

Cassie introduced him. His face reddened as he stood there in the uncomfortable silence. And finally he said, "I thought maybe you'd like to go for a drive—so I could explain."

"All right," Cassie said. "See that Sid does the dishes," she told Mama.

Parker waited until they had driven away from the house, before he gave her the note for Leni. It was in a small envelope of thick vellum.

"The Cavendish family were up last night when I took Lon home," he explained. He grimaced. "They finally pumped the story out of us. They high-pressed Lon into promising he wouldn't see Leni again until Christmas."

"They didn't need to worry about Leni making a fuss. Nor about our letting Leni marry him. Why she's still in high school!" Cassie said bitterly. "And anyway, he isn't the sort we want Leni to marry."

"She's awfully pretty," Parker offered.

CASSIE was silent. Her hands were nervously creasing the edges of the envelope he had given her.

"But I—you're even prettier." He reddened again, as he had back on the Fletcher front porch. "I'm horribly sorry about the whole thing, and I'm especially sorry we had to meet under such unpleasant circumstances."

"It's all right," Cassie said. "Everything's okay. Now if you'll just drive me home—or I can get out here. I wanted to stop at the drugstore anyway."

"You don't dislike me, do you, on account of what happened?" He glanced at her as he swung the car around a corner and across the creek bridge.

Here was where Mike had asked her to marry him—only yesterday. Was it only yesterday? Her heart plunged, remembering. Mike was probably gone by now, on that six o'clock train. Mike. Oh Mike!

"No, I don't particularly dislike you. Why should I?" She turned her brown eyes toward his.

"Then why do you act so—hostile?" He pulled the car to a stop at the tiny corner drugstore.

"I wasn't aware of being hostile. I'm worried. I have troubles. If you were in my shoes you wouldn't be affable either. And anyway, what business is it of yours?"

"Well," he spread his hands out helplessly, "I guess it isn't. Only I hate to see you so upset. I really think Leni will get over thinking about Lon, eventually, if that's what you're worried about."

"It doesn't interest me, what you think!" Cassie said. She opened the car door and got out, and started across the walk. "Thanks for bringing the note," she said.

She didn't go into the store after all, but started toward home.

SLOWING her steps as she took the shortcut across the commons and across the footbridge over the creek, she began to dredge up out of her memory all the things she'd ever heard or read about Parker Hamilton.

His father was president of the bank, she knew that, and the Hamiltons owned the old Machine Works. They had plenty of money and Parker was the only child. His mother was dead. Parker, she recalled, had been married once and divorced. He'd been in service, too, right after Pearl Harbor, in the Navy, and wounded, and then mustered out because of the injury.

She shrugged. Her hand felt again the crisp envelope of Lon's note in her pocket. Oh, well, what if she had been beastly, she'd never see Parker Hamilton again, so what did it matter?

Leni was up when Cassie got home. She sat at the kitchen table, eating a bowl of the chili Mama had saved for her. Her eyes were red-rimmed, her face blotchy and swollen. She looked somehow older than 17.

Her hair, an uncombed tangle, was tied with a pink ribbon and she was wearing the new pink housecoat Cassie had gotten for Christmas and never worn.

Mama hovered at the sink, drying the dishes for Sid.

"I let Leni put on your new housecoat, because I thought it would make her feel better, Cassie."

Leni, the sullenness deepening on her face, didn't look up. Cassie handed her the envelope and in an instant she slid from the chair and flew to the bedroom, tearing the note open as she went.

DECORATION DAY A LONG TIME AWAY?

It isn't if you desire to have a Monument or Marker erected by then.

The eight weeks preceding May 30th are our busiest of the year, and some orders placed late cannot be completed by that time.

Be wise and place your order with the Heynen Monument Co., now. Let them have the time to give it the careful attention it needs to make a beautiful and lasting tribute to a loved one.

Select a memorial this month from the Teynen Monument Co., Ohio and Pacific St., and be assured that it will be erected before Decoration Day.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This dispatch on Eisenhower's new army food directives is a story that came out of the headlines reproduced above. It is the climax to the story NEA's food editor uncovered last May in his tireless reporting of the food beat (top headline below). It is the successful ending to eight months of fact-finding by the Hennessy civilian committee, the case of the Army vs. Army food reform.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—GI Joe is going to get better food in the Army and the American taxpayer will no longer pay for scandalous wastage of food and dollars by army messes.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has given his personal assurance of these changes. In orders now being distributed to army commanders around the world, the chief of staff has embodied 50 out of 52 recommendations of the Hennessy Civilian Committee, which investigated Army misuse of critical food.

This action climaxed disclosures over a period of eight months by NEA Service. The first NEA dispatch carried in May blew the lid off the food scandal by showing that the army was wasting tons of foodstuffs at a time when domestic users were scrimping and thousands of persons were near starvation abroad.

High Army brass resisted the Hennessy committee's recommendations, which cut through long established red tape and tables of organization. This reporter was denounced as "vicious and irresponsible" by Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larkin, in a form letter to newspapers and Army periodicals.

Despite this opposition, members of the Hennessy committee and this reporter had reason to believe that Eisenhower, the "doughfoot's own general," was sympathetic. They continued to throw light on half measures and attempts to circumvent the civilian committee's recommendations.

When he announced his action, Eisenhower told the Hennessy committee:

"As a result of the publicity on the findings of the nine-man civilian committee in newspapers and magazines, it has been brought home forcibly to every officer in the United States Army that the American public is vitally interested in knowing exactly what the individual officer is doing today to improve food for his men."

Eisenhower's order provides: Security for army personnel trained in food service against transfer to other jobs, thus taking mess duty out of the "punishment" category.

Careful screening of prospects for food handling assignments, followed by special training and continued assignment in that field.

Further opportunities for men who show special aptitude in food handling to attend food training school for officers and qualify for promotion to officer status.

Higher pay—and better grades—for enlisted men on food service duty. For example, a chief warrant officer in charge of a regiment's mess will draw $443 a month, including allowances—as much as a major.

The Army Chief of Staff made public his order at a meeting in his office attended by Quartermaster General Larkin, Army public relations chief Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parkes, Maj. Gen. W. S. Paul, chief of personnel and administration, and Lt. Gen. Charles P. Hall, chief of organization and training. Also present were seven of the nine-man civilian committee, including its chairman, John L. Hennessy, chairman of the board of the Hotels Statler.

Eisenhower turned down the committee's recommendation for a separate Army Food Service Corps. The other proposal not accepted was for establishment of Cooks and Bakers schools under the Quartermaster General's office.

The Chief of Staff said these could not be accepted because "in my streamlining of the Army, I am making the officer responsible for the unit or corps strictly responsible for everything."

Eisenhower said the War Department will continue to use civilian advisors and these will recommend local committees for the Army's six corps areas.

Step right up and meet a Sweetheart

It's BUICK for '47!

STEP up now, good people, and meet the fashion master of the new season.

Here's Buick for 1947—style-wise, performance-wise, quality-wise and value-wise, the sweetest "buy" your dollars are going to find anywhere this year.

Eye well that sparkling new grille—behind it you'll be plainly marked as strictly up to 1947 in your travel standards.

Take in the tapering grace of long, sweep-through fenders—there's the hallmark of a style pattern sure to bring you notice and approval wherever you may go.

Note the reach of the bonnet—long, deep, broad-chested—there's a lifetime of thrills in such bountiful supply of Buick Fireball straight-eight power.

Spot the solid footing of a carriage big as you deserve—the breadth of beam that spells room aplenty—the ready-to-go poise of four coil-sprung wheels ready to level the roughest roads into boulevard smoothness.

And in particular, mark down this:

Not one smart model but nine will present this fresh front to the world this season.

Cars in three series, three wheel-bases and three price ranges give you a triple-barreled chance to know Buick size, Buick beauty, Buick ability when you travel.

Choose from two versions of the garage-handly SPECIAL—four of the light-footed SUPER—three of the great-hearted ROADMASTER series.

In each you'll find a rich abundance of the things that make Buick America's most wanted automobile—engines that seem to stay forever young, the matchless buoyancy of Buick's springing, the spaciousness of great room, the feathery handling of controls that are always "obediently yours."

Naturally—demand is going to be great; a sweetheart like this is bound to bring suitors flocking.

So how about coming in—right away—and getting your order on our books?

Talk on Social Security to Club Women

Sedalia Men's Choral Club Sings Several Numbers

Scott Webber, manager of the Sedalia office of Social Security Administration, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club, at the Bothwell hotel, Thursday evening. He was introduced by Mrs. Everett White, chairman of the club's finance committee. Mrs. Ollie McMullin, club president, was in charge of the business session.

Mr. Webber explained the Social Security Act, which was signed by President Roosevelt August 14, 1945, stating it is a modern program to help in the age-old fight against fear and want. There are four main reasons for want, he said, unemployment, disability, old age, death. Briefly he also stated:

General Information
"Methods of meeting insecurity: Savings. Modern standards of living require that a family of four would need from 1400.00 to 1,700.00 per year as a minimum income. Few could pile up enough savings to meet that standard. 2. Insurance. Private insurance provides benefits for only a small group. 3. Private and public charity. The depression of the 30's proved that whatever efforts are made, they are still inadequate. The Social Security Program implements these methods by providing security to the great mass of working people.

Has three main programs: 1. Public assistance to needy old people, to needy blind, and to dependent children. 2. Unemployment insurance, and 3. Old Age and Survivors Insurance. First two are administered by the states with the aid of federal grants. The Old Age and Survivors Insurance is entire federal. It is a combination of Annuity and Life Insurance; a retirement fund payable to the worker when he reaches the age of 65; and as insurance benefits payable to his family in case of his death. The amount of monthly benefits paid to the worker, or his survivors, is dependent upon the earnings which the worker has drawn during the time of employment.

In the seven counties under the Sedalia office during 1946 benefits were paid at the rate of $12.000 per month.

Most people are familiar with the method of collecting payments from the employee; 1% of the worker's salary, up to $3000.00 per year, is retained by his employer, which is matched by the employer and sent in to the state office in quarterly payments. The national office, where all records are kept, is located in Baltimore, Maryland. There are at present more than 87 million names on file.

"Under the present program only the workers in commerce and industry are covered; leaving more than 22 million gainfully employed workers who are not covered. The Social Security program is not meant to be a 'Gravy Train'; it is just a step toward the alleviation of human suffering."

Numerous questions were asked and answered at the close of his talk.

Choral Club Sang

Another entertaining feature of the program was the appearance of the Sedalia Choral Club, under the direction of Ralph Bennington, with Miss Lillian Fox accompanying. They sang, "Sweet, Sweet Roses of May," "I Love You Best of All," "Winter Song," "The Lord's Prayer," "Love's Greeting" and "Now the Day is Over."

Guests attending, other than members, were: Mrs. Bessie Miller, Miss Wanda Jean White, Glenn Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. James Denny, N. U. Renshaw, E. A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Middleton, Mrs. Kenneth Middleton, Guy Bailey, Mrs. Robert Boothie, Miss Helen Sittion.

One new member, Miss Elizabeth Blosser, associated with the Taylor-Wagner auditing company, was presented.

The committee in charge was composed of Mr. White, Miss Mary Shanks, Miss Erma Fajen, Mrs. Regina Franken, Mrs. Raymond Goddard, Miss Margaret Grady, Mrs. R. C. Lippard, Miss Thelma Brunkhorst.

Additional Society

The Sorosis club will meet at the Heard Memorial club house, Monday afternoon. The program will be book reviews by Mrs. Lee Montgomery, who will speak on "The Arabs" by Dr. Philip K. Hitti and Miss Hazel Gray, who will speak on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Negro Held For Observation

Saturday night, Leon Williams, 508 North Washington avenue, was picked up by police officers and placed in the county jail for observation. Williams is alleged to have been connected with the attempted stabbing of Izadore Kantor, 1220 West Fourth street.

Kantor states that Saturday morning Williams entered his store and placed an order for groceries. Williams' step-father had left orders with Kantor, not to allow Williams to charge anything on his bill. Kantor told Williams that he would send the order to his home by delivery boy later in the day.

Williams, Kantor stated, then began to curse and took an ice pick from his pocket, threatening to stab him. Kantor ordered the enraged Negro to leave the store. Leaving, he returned a short time later and was alleged to have informed Kantor he planned to kill him.

Later in the day Williams' step-father came into the store and Kantor told him of the argument. The step-father then called the police and told them to arrest him. About 8:00 o'clock the police found Williams at a pool hall on East Main street and took him in charge. No charges have been preferred.

Floral Design—St. Valentine's

Of all flower gifts that florists make for St. Valentine's, the corsage still comes closest to a woman's heart. Professional artists at local shops now express timely sentiment with beauty and simplicity like the example above. Formula: carnations, red chenille hearts and artistic skill. Since your florist aids and abets romance all year long, naturally he excels as Dan Cupid for St. Valentine's Day. One example of 1947 tricks up his sleeve is shown here (above, right) by Florists' Telegraph stylist Alvin Wayne. A red heart vase, pierced by golden arrow, features white tulips, blue iris and plumose.

Home Entered And Robbed

The home of W. O. Kreisler, 1823 West Sixteenth street, was entered between 6:30 and 7:50 o'clock Saturday night and burglarized by person or persons unknown.

The Kreislers left their home at 6:30 o'clock to go up town and when they returned about an hour later they found that the house had been entered and several valuables had been taken.

One hundred and nine dollars in cash was taken from a tackle box; a seventeen jewel Bulova ladies wrist watch, a Central wrist watch, one wedding ring with hearts on it, an engagement ring with five diamonds, two large and two small ones set on either side of the larger stone, and a ruby set ring were missing.

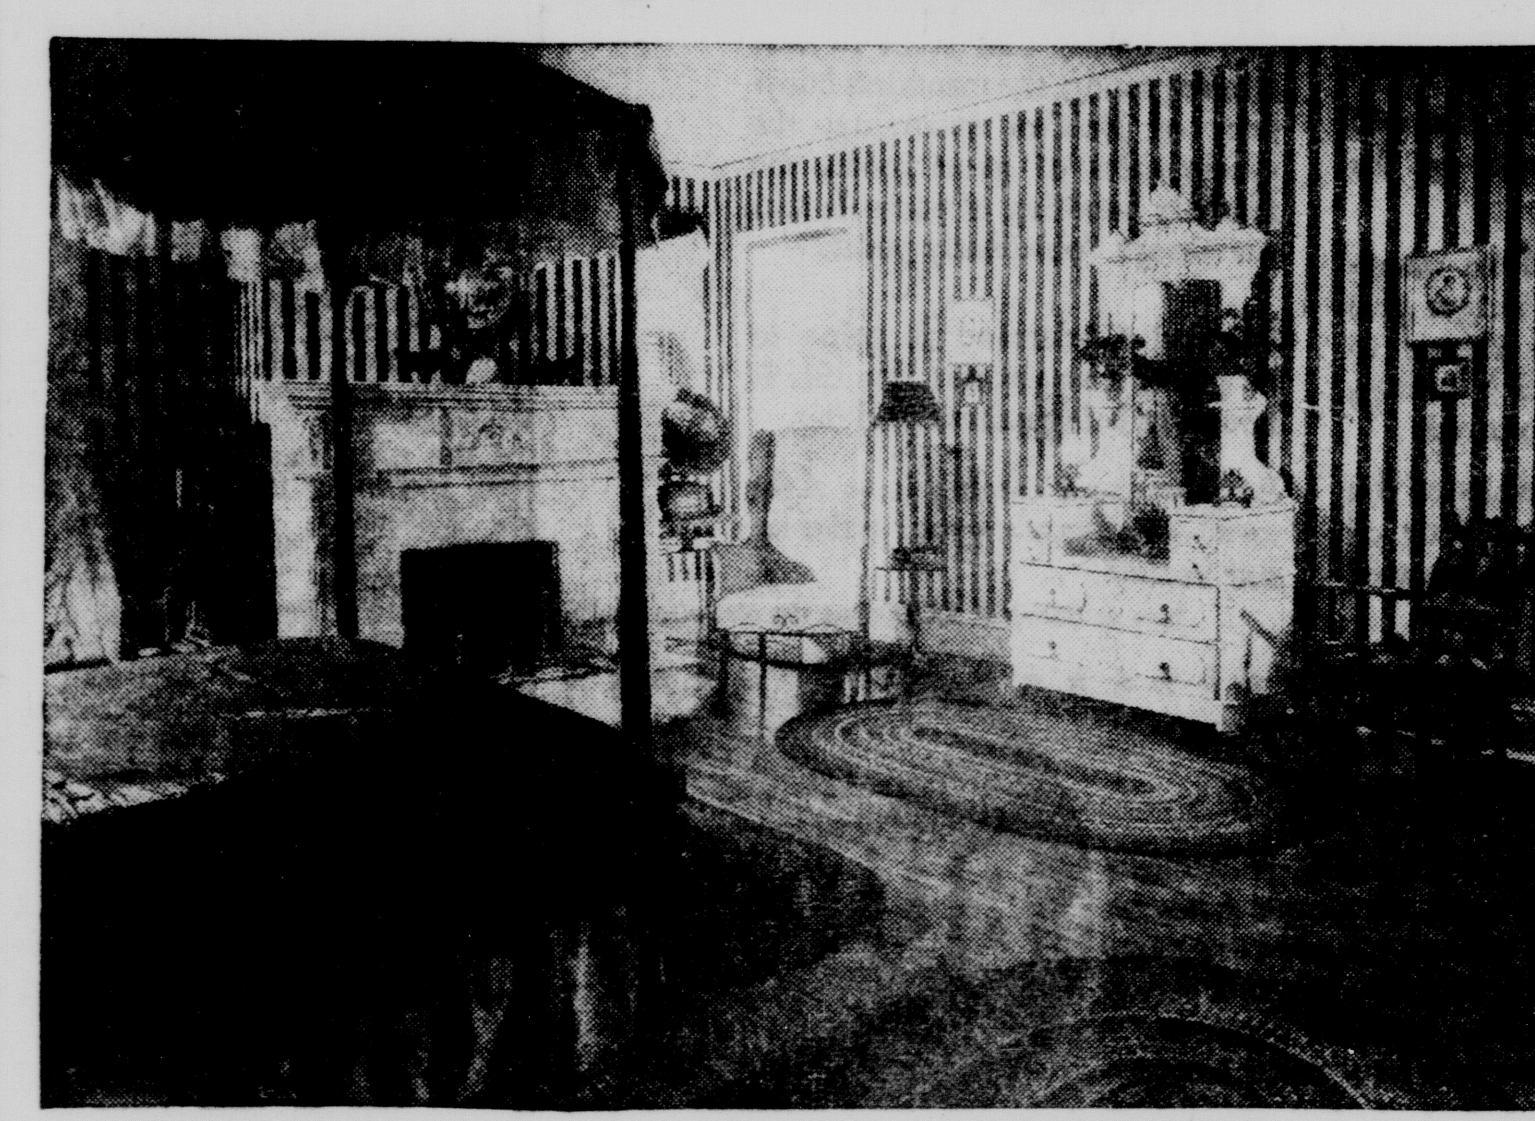

It is believed the burglar entered the home through the rear door, employing a key to gain admittance. After collecting the "loot" he left through a west window.

An investigation was conducted by local officers and the state patrol.

Spring fashions, freed from wartime fabric restrictions, make lavish use of pleats and flares for a new, fuller silhouette. The swirling black wool opera cape, left, plays up its dramatic sweep with a boldly checked black and white taffeta lining. Star of one collection is the suit, right, with its deep box-pleated gray worsted skirt and plaid tweed jacket with new lowered Norfolk belt.

Floor-to-Ceiling Charm in Bedroom Decor

A floor of glistening oak reflects the full charm of this unusual bedroom for a college age girl. Early American and Victorian touches are harmoniously blended. The dresser, relic of a bygone era, has been painted white and adorned with potted geraniums. The wallpaper is a bold green and white stripe. Dark green dominates the color scheme, picking up red accents from the plaid chair cover, the geranium blossoms and—yes, even the old morning glory phonograph horn is red. The oak floors, waxed to a gleaming brilliance, emphasize the room's careful planning.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Anna Slack Brucher

Mrs. Anna Slack Brucher, 82 years old, died Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mel Ilgenfritz, 1514 South Kentucky avenue. Mrs. Brucher had been ill for about eleven weeks.

She was born in Bloomfield in 1865, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Slack. Most of her life was spent in St. Louis, but during the past ten years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mel Ilgenfritz.

In 1885 she was united in marriage to George Brucher, who preceded her in death. A daughter, Mrs. Mel Ilgenfritz, the only survivor, was born to this union.

Mrs. Brucher was a member of the Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at McLaughlin's chapel, with the Rev. James Merrick officiating.

Burial will be at 2 o'clock that afternoon in the Valhalla cemetery in St. Louis. Rev. Merrick will also officiate at the graveside services. Mrs. Brucher will be interred in the family lot beside the grave of her husband.

Services for John E. Bluhm

Funeral services for John E. Bluhm, 88 years old, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Dump, eight miles south of Sedalia Friday morning, will be held at the Ewing funeral home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The Rev. J. Fred King will officiate. Mrs. Harold Hausman will be in charge of the music.

Friends of the family will serve as pallbearers.

Interment will be in the Bluhm family lot in the Memorial Park cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Florence Griffith

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Griffith, 88 years old, who died at the Bothwell hospital Thursday morning, were held at the Salt Fork church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. E. S. Brummett officiated. Mrs. Minerva Schupp, Mrs. Riley Pettit and Mrs. Thelma Simons sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Going Down the Valley."

The following served as pallbearers: Homer Powers, George McClery, M. R. Gillespie, C. W. Racey, Artie Reed, J. W. Mollet. Interment was in the Griffith family lot in the Salt Fork cemetery.

Alex Williams

Funeral services for Alex G. Williams, 65 years old, who died at 615 East Third street, will be held at the home of his son, John E. Williams, 320 West Fourth street, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Gillespie Funeral Home. The Rev. H. U. Campbell will officiate.

Mrs. Mae Moser will be in charge of the music, which will be "Abide With Me" and "City Four Square."

Pallbearers will be Albert H. Edwards, Louis Rautt, Fred M. Lange, Clarence Crain, Ott Macken, and George Farris, Jr.

Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte V. Johannes

Mrs. Charlotte Voigt Johannes, 83, died Thursday in St. Louis.

Mrs. Johannes was born February 15, 1863 in Manitowac, Wis., the daughter of the late Philip and Mary Voigt. When she was a small child she moved to Hughesville with her parents. She was married to J. P. Coen, Lexington, October 10, 1888. One son, Irvin, was born to this union. Mr. Coen preceded her in death on June 10, 1906. The son died in 1913.

In 1914 she was married to August Johannes who preceded her in death in 1930.

Mrs. Johannes is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Fichter of Pacific, and Mrs. William Bergfelder, Redondo Beach, Calif.; three brothers, Dr. E. A. Voigt, St. Louis, with whom she made her home, and August and Fred Voigt of Concordia; one great granddaughter and two great grandsons. Two sisters and two brothers preceded her in death.

Burial will be in the Macphelah cemetery in Lexington, Mo., by the side of Mr. Coen and her son.

Floyd F. Mead

Floyd F. Mead, aged 67, of 3826 Indiana, Kansas City, died Thursday at the U. S. Veterans hospital, Wadsworth, Kas. He was a veteran of the Spanish American war.

Mr. Mead, prior to retiring last September, had been employed by the Barron Fuel Company, Kansas City. He was a former Sedalian and at one time was a passenger brakeman employed on the M. K. T. railroad.

Surviving are two brothers, Earl B. Mead, Kansas City, and Warren Mead, Cleveland, and one sister, Mrs. Fred Smith, Kansas City.

Martin Lindeman Services

Funeral services for Martin Lindeman, who died at his home near Smithton Thursday morning, were held at the Methodist church, Smithton, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Earl Dillon officiated.

A mixed quartette, composed of Mrs. Olen Monsees, Mrs. Sheldon Smith, S. C. Kahrs and H. E. Monsees sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Life's Railroad to Heaven" and Mrs. Monsees sang a solo, "Goodnight Here, Goodmorning There."

Pallbearers were: Paul Erfurth, Omer Homan, Raymond Kahrs, William Lamm, Vernon Monsees, Olen Monsees.

Burial was in the Smithton cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Brunkhorst

Mrs. Charles Brunkhorst, 62, who lived near Florence, died at midnight Friday, at Menorah hospital, Kansas City, where she had been a patient for two weeks.

The body was brought to the Neumeier funeral home at Smithton. No funeral arrangements had been made late last night.

How Far Can He Build on an Old Wreck?

Robert (R.R.) Young Highballing Toward Empire That Balked the Greatest Railroad Men in History

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND (NEA) — Robert Ralph (Railroad) Young thinks he is in position to realize a dream that balked some of the greatest railroad men in American history.

That dream is an integrated Atlantic-to-Pacific system. It proved too much for Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jay Gould, E. H. Harriman—and for the spectacular Van Sweringen brothers, on the ashes of whose ambitious empire Young has been rebuilding for ten years.

He still has to prove that he can control the New York Central with less than five per cent of its voting stock. He still has to get the Interstate Commerce Commission to let him run the Central and tie it in with his other roads. He still needs a western link from Salt Lake City, and is eyeing the Western Pacific.

But Young has fought his way up the railroad ladder since 1937 against obstacles that only the footloose or the supremely confident would tackle. He has gone further with his dream than any other railroader in modern times. He believes that he can succeed, and he makes it sound possible. If he does it will be on an original investment of $4,000,000—most of which he got back later by some fast foot work.

With $3,000,000 supplied by Allen P. (Woolworth fortune) Kirby and $1,000,000 of his own, Young picked up the Allegheny Corp., the Van Sweringens' "public basket," in 1937.

In it he found voting control over the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Nickel Plate, the Pere Marquette, the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Kansas City Southern, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the Erie, and the great Missouri Pacific system.

There was control over 19,873 route miles of railroad in that basket, stretching from New York and Washington in the east to Denver and Salt Lake City and El Paso in the west. But the only worthwhile thing in the batch, the only bread earner, was the coal-rich C. & O., which carries few passengers, but made money hand over fist through the darkest depression years, hauling Appalachian coal. The rest was so poor, the corporate structure so tangled, that a Morgan partner remarked at the time: "Anyone who buys into Allegheny ought to have his head examined."

The House of Morgan should have known. They had dropped $35,000,000 in 1935 on a loan to the Van Sweringens secured by the very Allegheny stock that young bought in 1937.

The Van Sweringens had run a broken shoeing into control over almost three billion dollars worth of railroad and other properties. Then they died, owing around $70,000,000 to New York and Cleveland banks. Suits involving many millions were pending.

The Nickel Plate was about to default, in a year, on bonds. One year after that, unless it could begin paying interest on other bonds, the Allegheny Corp. faced insolvency.

Allegheny's only producing asset was the C. & O. stock, and that was tied up in a complicated arrangement by which, much of the time, income went to the Guaranty Trust Co. instead of to Allegheny. The Morgans didn't care for Young, and neither did their banking friends, including Guaranty Trust.

The setup was so tangled and so weak that no layman could figure a way through the maze. But somehow Young did it. He saved the properties. He has reduced their debts, simplified the structure, dumped some holdings, added others.

Today, he still has the C. & O., the Nickel Plate and the Pere Marquette, which he wants to merge into one. These give him a unified system from Washington and Buffalo to Chicago and St. Louis. He has added holdings in the Seaboard, to Florida. By a vigorous fight he has put himself into position so that he may come out as the biggest stockholder in the Missouri Pacific, which the Van Sweringens lost and which became one of the biggest money-makers of World War II. He has added what he thinks is working control over the New York Central, second only to the Pennsylvania among eastern systems.

If the ICC permits him to take control over the Central and if he can make that control good against the Vanderbilts, the Union Pacific and other big interests, here is what Young has today, ready to weld into the nationwide network that is his goal.

He has five important railroads with 29,563 route miles of track. That is one eighth of the total mileage of all Class I roads in the country.

He has 25 per cent more mileage than either the Canadian National or the Canadian Pacific; more than twice as much as the Santa Fe system; more than two and a half times as much as the Pennsylvania—Long Island-New Haven, the Burlington, the Milwaukee or the Union Pacific.

He would need just one more link—perhaps the Western Pacific—to give him a through road from New York and Washington to San Francisco, with the Seaboard to Florida, the C. & O. tapping the rich Appalachian coal fields, the Missouri Pacific thriving off Texas' oil fields and mushrooming industry, the Pere Marquette serving industrial Michigan.

He would be required, presumably, to dispose of the Nickel Plate, which parallels the Central. But that would be no hardship if he can rule the Central. The Nickel Plate came into the picture in the first place because the ICC required the Central to dispose of it to promote competition.

But if Young's 4.8 per cent vote on the Central proves inadequate for his purposes, as some financiers and corporation experts think it may, he still has another string to his bow. In that event he says he would try to get control over the Lackawanna from New York to Buffalo, tie it into the Nickel Plate to Chicago and St. Louis, use the Missouri Pacific to Laredo, El Paso and Denver, then the Denver & Rio Grande to Salt Lake City, and make some sort of deal with the Western Pacific to San Francisco.

Aside from possible ICC interference, the key to Young's future—and to his ambition to create the national system that nobody else could establish—lies in the lineup of important stockholders in the New York Central.

Blind Hero is Helping Other Blind to Live

Lost His Sight While Giving Other Soldier a Drink

PARKVILLE, Mo., Feb. 8—(AP)—With Charles (Benny) Woodson, sightless World War II hero it is a case of "the blind helping the blind."

His eyesight destroyed in combat, the former artillery corporal came home to start a cabinet working business and now keeps busy repairing furniture. Making wooden toys and crating articles for shipment.

Now he has undertaken another project, that of helping a blind woman help herself. She is Mrs. Belle E. Camden Point, who lost her eyesight through the infirmities of old age.

Helps Others
Woodson persuaded her to take up the fashioning of plastics. Besides helping her with the fundamentals of the craft, he has been helping her in disposing of her products.

Lending a hand to others is nothing new for the former corporal of the 343rd Field Artillery of the 90th Division. It was while giving a wounded soldier a drink under heavy fire before Metz on September 9, 1944 that he was struck by a bullet which left him sightless. Earlier the same day, he had been wounded in both legs, but refused treatment.

Has Silver Star
For this he received the Silver Star for gallantry in action.

Woodson, his wife and two children, are living in a rented house. His work shop is a shed, none too water repellent, back of the house.

But, like most veterans he is looking forward to a new home. However, his is assured in not too far distant future.

A county-wide committee has raised a fund of $8,500 for the new home, complete with work shop in the basement. Actual work on the home, however, has been postponed by the committee until later this year because of unsettled values and building conditions.

Heading the drive for funds were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hummel. Most of the amount was raised through socials, benefits and auctions.

A wood frame on a mirror may be cleaned by wiping off with a soft cloth wrung out of mild soap-suds, then wiping with a cloth dampened in clear water and finally drying with a clean soft cloth.

Turkeys have been developed to meet the needs of today's consumer. "Beltsville Small Whites" and other small birds have been bred to fit apartment-size ovens. Very large birds have been developed for use in restaurants and similar establishments.

World War II Veterans Join New Guard Unit

Technical Sergeant L. H. Barman, Sergeant E. S. Stockton, and Corporal C. R. Shaw are shown taking Oath and Certificate of Enlistment in Headquarters, 35th Infantry Division (Detachment) Missouri National Guard. Major James M. Blue, acting adjutant general is giving the oath.

Ask Curtailing Panhandle Gas

Urgency Period Is Due To The Present Cold Wave

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Missouri Public Service Commission Friday night urged users of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company gas in Clay county and 40 other northern Missouri communities to curtail their use of gas to the utmost until the present cold wave ends.

The area includes the state capital.

The commission said the short supply of Panhandle gas available to eight Missouri distributing utilities "calls for a serious curtailment program, making it necessary that all users of both domestic and commercial gas curtail their use as much as possible until the present storm period is passed and normal operations can be restored."

"Every customer of those companies is asked to assist in this curtailment program so that some of the communities will not have to suffer too severely due to improper curtailment on the part of some who do not participate."

The commission said it hoped a 100 percent response would "enable our citizens to get through the present cold wave that is now forecast for the next two or three days."

Directed To Utilities
The PSC already has set up a system to prevent new gas consumers from cutting into the short supply of Panhandle Eastern Gas.

Today's request was directed to the following utilities and the towns they serve:

Missouri Edison Company—Lisiana.
Citizens Gas Company—Hannibal.

Missouri Utilities Company—Columbia.
Missouri Western Gas Company—Adrian, Amoret, Butler, Virginia, Passaic.

Bowling Green Gas Company—Bowling Green.
Central West Utilities—Liberty, Smithville, and Clay county.

Interstate Gas Company—Centerville, Clarksburg, Grandview, Belton, Blue Springs, Houstonia, Martin City, Palmyra, Pilot Grove, Raytown, Tipton, Windsor, Harrisonville, Pleasant Hill.

Missouri Power and Light Company—Boonville, Centralia, Excelsior Springs, Farber, Hallsville, Jefferson City, Laddonia, Martinsburg, Mexico, Moberly, New Franklin, New London, Sturgeon, Vandalia, Wellspring.

Sedalia's gas supply is secured through Cities Service and H. C. Feuer, district manager for the Missouri Public Service Corporation, stated no such request had been received by that company.

Discussion on Nursery Schools

The Jefferson Pre-school Parent Unit met in the home of Mrs. V. A. Siegel, 310 North Summit avenue, January 28.

Mrs. Herschel Summers, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. N. E. Siegel, a guest, read the devotional, "Lesson in Gratitude." The lesson was read by Mrs. Summers.

A discussion was held on "Nursery Schools." The discussion was what type child should attend nursery school and those who should not.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Del Napier.

Two Actions For Divorce Filed Friday
Two suits for divorce were filed in circuit court Friday, the first was by Walter R. Tosland against Maxeen Tosland. The petition states the couple was married June 8, 1941 and separated December 31, 1946. Two children, Jane Ann, age 3, and Nancy Lee, seven months old, were born of this marriage.

Montgomery, Martin and Salveter are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

The second was filed by Carmen LeBegue against Nelson LeBegue. This petition states the couple was married August 8, 1934 and separated February 5, 1947. One child, Donald Lynn, age 11, was born of this union.

The plaintiff asks for the care and custody of the minor child. Also suitable amount for his support. Attorney for the plaintiff is William F. Brown. General indignities are alleged in both petitions.

Heart Disease Toll 500,000 a Year Doctors are Fighting Inadequate Funds In Their Research and Education Program

In this picture, 50 heart clinic patients; in the nation, 7,000,000. Waiting their turn in a corridor of the Hospital for Joint Diseases in New York, all these people have something in common with one another and with millions of others in the U. S. NEW YORK. (NEA)—In the second floor corridor of a hospital in Manhattan's teeming upper east side, 50 people sat stiffly in straight-backed wooden benches patiently awaiting their turn to see one of a half-dozen doctors on duty.

Ages of those 50 people varied from the low teens to the eighties. They had one thing in common: all were "cripples without crutches," suffering from heart trouble—like 7,000,000 fellow Americans. A few of the 50 will die, per-

Cripples Without Crutches: I

Editor's Note: As the nation's doctors launch their first country-wide campaign to educate America on the toll of heart disease, NEA Service tells the background story of the nation's greatest killer—and cripple—and medicine's fight to curb it. This is the first of three dispatches written in collaboration with medical authorities and checked for accuracy and scope by heart specialist.

labor lost through heart disease almost equalled the number lost in labor disputes. Many of these could have been saved if properly organized community rehabilitation programs were available to redirect the activities of cardiacs into economic channels where they can be utilized without danger to themselves.

The American Heart Association, oldest professional organization devoted exclusively to the medical and social problems of heart patients, is focusing the nation's attention on the appalling need of these people during National Heart Week (Feb. 9-15).

"If our nation is to meet the threat of heart disease, every thinking man and woman must know the facts about this ruthless killer," says Dr. David D. Rutstein, medical director of the association.

"The public must be told about the causes of heart disease. Every citizen must understand how high blood pressure, infections, overweight and rheumatic fever contribute to heart disease. Every citizen must realize the importance of a public health program right in his own community as a means of attacking heart disease."

"It is true that heart disease is on the increase, that it is the greatest cause of death. But it is not true that nothing can be done about it. Medical science has made and is still making progress in the care, prevention and treatment of heart disease. Thousands of persons with diseased hearts are living comfortable and useful lives by cooperating with their physicians, by working at jobs suited to their heart conditions. Many are living as long as they could reasonably expect to live without heart disease. In certain types of heart disease there is even a chance of complete recovery."

The pattern of this clinic is repeated a thousand times in cities across the country. But it isn't enough.

During the war years heart diseases killed six times as many Americans as were killed in action on the world battle fronts; they annually account for as many deaths as the next five greatest causes of death combined. Yet until recently research into the causes of heart disease amounted to only 17 cents for each death from such causes—compared to a research expenditure of $2.18 per cancer death and $502 per death from infantile paralysis.

The figures were revealed by M. Albert Linton, chairman of the Life Insurance Medical Research organization. That group, supported by 149 U. S. and Canadian life insurance companies, has contributed $733,000 toward heart research in the last two years. Other funds are slowly becoming available. A privately endowed New York City foundation a few weeks ago gave the income from a million dollars for the study of hypertension (high blood pressure), one of the five basic heart diseases. But research still is inadequate compared to the magnitude of the problem.

Research, however, is only one aspect in the cure of the nation's heart troubles. In strike-troubled 1946, the number of man-days of

Divorce Decree To Mrs. Szombati

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Marie Busch Szombati, daughter of the late August Busch, Sr., St. Louis brewer, was granted a divorce Friday from her former chauffeur, Andrew P. Szombati, whom she married last August in Toledo, O. Her former married name of Jones was restored.

She testified before Circuit Judge Fred E. Mueller in suburban Clayton that Szombati drank to excess at times; that he took "undesirable people" to her home on Weber hill road and that he took other "undesirables" to their room in a Toledo hotel which caused the management to ask that she leave.

Szombati was in court but did not testify. Attorneys refused to say whether any property settlement had been made.

Child Bitten To Death By A Dog

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—(AP)—A four-year-old boy was bitten to death by a large German Shepherd dog Friday while his mother vainly tried to mount a slope where he was sledding.

His face disfigured beyond recognition and his snowsuits ripped to shreds by the animal's teeth, Walter Momer, Jr., was fatally injured before a neighbor beat off the dog with his trouser belt.

His mother, Mrs. Jane Momer, arrived seconds later and warded off a second attack by the dog with a dishpan she carried from the kitchen. She was followed by the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Owens.

While the child was rushed to a hospital in a futile attempt to save his life, the snarling dog was shot and killed by two other neighbors—one of them the brother of a young boy bitten by the same animal in an attack on four children yesterday.

Mrs. Momer said she had not wanted Walter to go out today, but gave in to his pleading that "I'll dress myself, mommy; I want to sled before the snow melts."

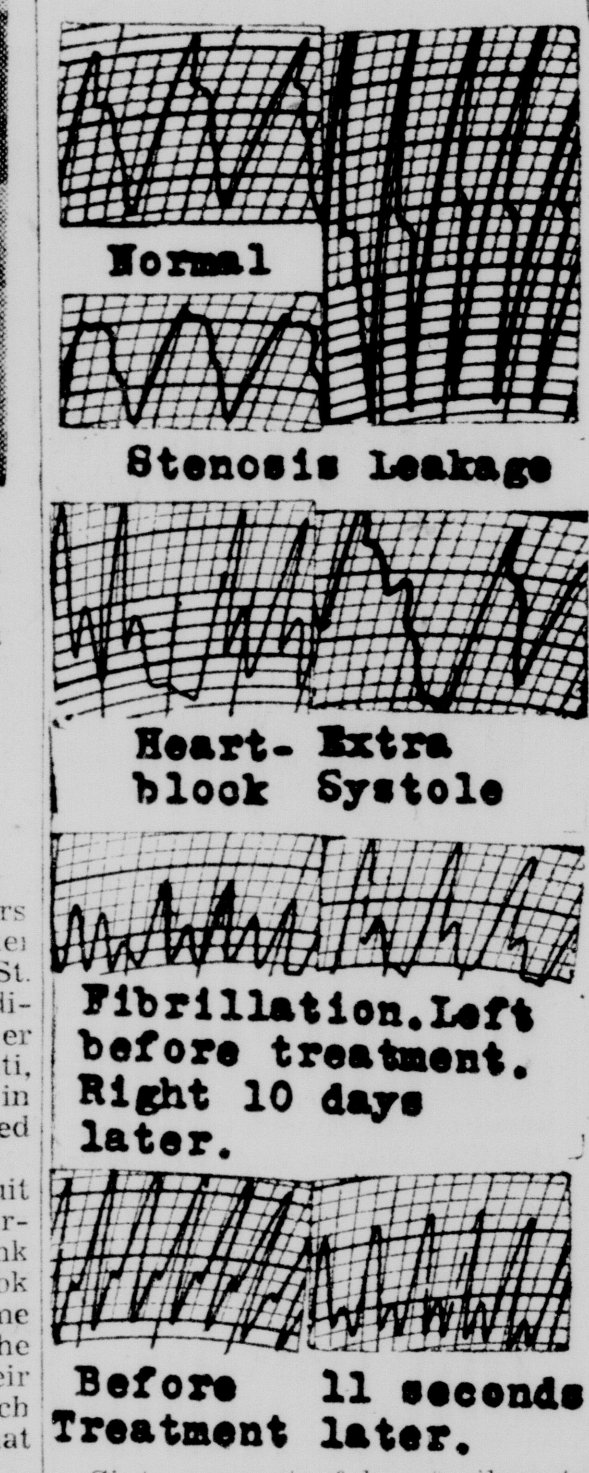

Officials of the Women's S. P. C. A. which took the dog's body into custody for a rabies examination.

HOW IS YOUR HEART?

One Out of Three Die From Heart Ailments

Many people have heart trouble and do not know it. Some conditions will be revealed only by cardiographic examinations. Other cases who may have been considered heart invalids may not be as bad off as they think, which fact may be indicated by cardiographs.

The following Heartgraphs indicate a few of the more common ailments. By comparing them with the normal, as shown, it can be seen how much they vary, each ailment produces a different graph. The squares from left to right indicate 2/10th second each, hence each phase of the heart beat can be timed. The distance from the bottom to top indicate the force of the heart beat. Compare the normal with the one marked "leakage" which shows an enlargement of the heart caused by aortic leakage.

Sixty percent of heart ailments are caused by a disturbance with the nerve supply and the Heart-graph indicates such cases, the extrasystole and heart block shown are but two of several different kinds.

Cardiographic analysis not only indicates the kind of trouble but how bad it is. One of its greatest values is that it shows if the treatment being given is doing any good or not; if not improving, treatment should be stopped or changed. It proves that chiropractic methods have a marked beneficial effect upon heart ailments.

The two bottom graphs are examples. The bottom one is an extremely bad condition of late closure of the aortic valve with pulse rate of 120 per minute. The remarkable fact about this graph is that near normal condition was restored while the graph was being made. Immediately after the treatment the instrument was turned on and the heart gave eight abnormal beats and corrected itself. The samples above are for three seconds, the entire graph takes one minute. Later graphs of the same case shows still greater improvement. The last time I heard of the patient he was doing his farm work.

Graphs should be preserved so at future times it can be compared with later graphs and your doctor will know how the heart is progressing. It is important to know if a heart abnormality is something of recent origin or chronic.

Insurance companies say 35% of their death claims are due to heart trouble. Heart dysfunction is on the increase. Considering these facts it is only good judgment to know as much as possible about YOUR heart. Have a graph made of your heart and recheck it each year. One graph including one recheck within thirty days costs five dollars.

JUST ABOUT EVERYTHING
NICE that one could say of Irish singing has been written into KM-to top everything we've read to date—"For true-

ness, timbre, fidelity, glorious

other attributes that go to make a great singer, he (Irish) has them in abundance." Of course, when bringing up the "Big Time," it shouldn't be forgotten that Irish has been on the entertainment world's main stem when he appeared with "The Texas Rangers" in coast-to-coast radio and the motion pictures. He should be good —Irish dates his singing back to choir boy days in Kansas City churches—and in radio when it was considered a great honor just to sing over the air, without thought of being paid for it.

'Dead Continent' Is Slowly Warming Again Toward Life

Keep the Door Closed, Richard

Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd revives memories as he sits in front of the coal stove in his old quarters at Little America and smokes a cornucopia pipe still loaded with tobacco which he left there on his second expedition in 1933. Byrd and 197 men will remain at the Antarctic camp until March 1 to press explorations. (NEA RADIO PHOTO FROM U. S. NAVY)

By Roger D. Greene
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—Is the vast frozen "dead continent" of Antarctica slowly warming up again toward life?

Scientists pondered that question today in the wake of news dispatches describing the mild weather encountered by Admiral Richard E. Byrd's expedition at the bottom of the world.

Pending the return of Byrd with factual data, scientists here cautiously side-stepped any flat predictions that the great frozen wastes may be thawing toward a slow re-awakening of life.

Charles Hubbard, noted Arctic explorer, now attached to the U.S. Weather Bureau, told a reporter he had experienced temperatures as high as 50 degrees above zero "with rain and slush" near the north pole.

At Sea Level
"But of course the North Pole is warmer because it's at sea level, while the South Pole is on a 10,000-foot plateau whipped by 100-mile an hour winds," he said.
J. Glenn Dyer, who accompanied Byrd as a cartologist on the 1939-41 expedition, said that during his stay in the Antarctic "we had only three or four days of bright sunshine with the temperatures at 30 to 32 degrees above."
"If the South Pole is warming up," he added, "it will take many, many years. These things don't happen overnight."

Long ago—perhaps 100 million years in the prehistoric past—the South Polar region flourished in warm and possibly even tropical weather.

Plants Thrive
Plants and trees, including a species like the California sequoia, thrived in the warm polar sunshine and left their heritage in coal deposits now locked deep beneath the 6,000,000-square-mile wilderness of snow and ice.

Then something happened. A convulsion of nature sent 10,000-foot mountains rising from the lowlands and transformed it into the highest and coldest continent on earth.

"It was the rise of these mountains," says Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famed polar explorer, "that gathered the snow which buried the vegetation, killed the animals and made that continent the most nearly dead in the world."

May Change The Year's Days

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(P)—If the World Calendar Association had its way—and it may—tomorrow wouldn't be Sunday at all, but Thursday, February 9 always would be Thursday.

The association proposes to streamline the Calendar, so that any given date would fall on the same day of the week each year. Christmas always would be on Monday; Jan. 1 would be on Sunday. The calendar would never change.

The plan, to be studied this year by Congress and, perhaps, the United Nations, is not so drastic as it may appear: The year's days simply would be rearranged into equal quarters. The 12 months would stay.

Air, water and heat can rob cabbage of its important vitamin C. The less it is cooked or exposed to the air after it has been cut, the more vitamin C is retained.

Smith-Cotton PTA to Meet On Thursday

Observing the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Parent-Teacher Association, the largest crowd of the year is expected to attend the Smith-Cotton P. T. A. meeting to be held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening beginning at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Emory L. Ellsworth, president.

Following the business session the Founders' Day Program will be given, with Mrs. Lloyd Kirkpatrick, chairman, in charge. The devotional will be offered by the Rev. J. W. Watts, pastor of the East Broadway Christian church.

The Smith-Cotton high school band, under the direction of J. T. Alexander, director of music in the Sedalia public school, will render several numbers.

The musical part of the program will be in charge of Mr. Alexander and several vocal and instrumental numbers will be offered by students of the high school.

Rev. Knight Speaker
The principal speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Edgar L. Knight, pastor of the First Christian church, who has chosen for his subject "Preparing Our Children to Live in the Modern World." This will be Rev. Knight's first appearance before the local P. T. A. and his talk will be of great interest to everyone.

Following the program a social hour will be enjoyed in the school library, with refreshments in charge of Mrs. Leo Eickhoff and Mrs. Kenneth Love, assisted by several women of the social committee.

The executive board of the association will hold a business session in the office of Joe Benson, principal, beginning at 7:15, and all chairmen of the various committees will make their reports, and will be presided over by the president, Mr. Ellsworth.

Fruits combine with peanut butter to make delicious sandwich fillings. Try peanut butter with apple sauce, crushed pineapple, sliced or mashed bananas, or chopped stewed apricots or prunes. Peanut butter teams up deliciously with chocolate, malt, or olives. Accent the natural peanut flavor with pickles, cloves, vanilla or spices.

Young chickens that weigh up to 2 1/2 pounds are tender enough to broil. Up to 3 1/2 pounds they are ideal also for frying or preparing in other favorite ways. Because of their tenderness they need only short cooking.

One Killed And Seven Hurt In 'Frisco Wreck

Derailment Near Republic, Mo., On Friday Evening

REPUBLIC, Mo., Feb. 8.—(P)—One person was killed and seven hurt when the Frisco passenger train, the Will Rogers, was derailed three miles east of here at 6:30 o'clock Friday night.

Three cars were derailed and the Pullman, last car on the train, overturned.

Dr. James Osborn, 67, Fredrick, Okla., was found dead beneath the pullman. Apparently he had been thrown from the car as it overturned. His head was crushed.

The injured, all of whom were brought to Springfield hospitals, were:

Gordon Tyler, 42, (1720 East Thirtieth) Tulsa, Okla.
Mrs. Georgia Belle Van Camper, 35, (4423 North Sheridan road) Chicago, fractured pelvis.
Mrs. Alice Sharp, 1350 Bayard Ave., St. Louis, severe bruises.
Albert S. J. Hill, pullman porter, Oklahoma City, badly hurt hands.
Mrs. Kathleen Manion, 4001 Washington Ave., St. Louis, bruises.

Mrs. Anna Freer, Tulsa, Okla., minor injuries. (St. address unavailable)
Mrs. Elinor Rapps, 5635 Clem-on St. Louis, fractured ribs.

Injured All In Pullman
All of the injured were in the overturned pullman.

The cars derailed included the diner and two day coaches.

At Kansas City, general passenger agent Roy Maring said a broken rail had caused the derailment. The Will Rogers, en route from Oklahoma City to St. Louis, was due in the latter city at 12:15 o'clock Saturday morning. It was reported five minutes late when leaving Monett first division point south of Springfield.

Members of the train crew were identified at Monett as E. L. Gardner, Springfield, engineer; Leo Auffer, Monett, fireman; and Bill Daugherty, Monett, conductor.

Ambulances from Springfield and Aurora were called to the scene of the wreck. The highway near the scene was packed with an estimated 300 to 400 motor cars a short time after the wreck. Four highway patrol cars from Springfield were kept busy keeping traffic moving.

Red Cross Corner

The recent training course in Accident Prevention offered to the teachers of Pettis and Benton counties by the American Red Cross proved signally successful. Mr. C. F. Scotten, superintendent of schools has informed us that 55 teachers completed the training, and are now eligible to instruct their pupils. Mr. F. C. Bills, field representative from the area office, St. Louis, gave the training course. Plans are under way for more training courses to be held in other counties in the state.

Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, chairman of Home Nursing, has announced that two classes in this field have been started, one in the morning, and the other in the afternoon. Plans for additional classes are under way. Mrs. A. E. Dorrance, R.N., is instructing, and the immediate future for this particular Red Cross Service seems unusually bright.

Mrs. Fred Brink, chairman of Sewed Garments, is glad to be able to announce the completion of her quota of boys' shorts. This assignment, a large one, has been finished in good time, and we are grateful to the volunteers who responded to our calls for sewers.

We still need knitters. Our present consignment of OD yarn to be made into children's sweaters has not gone out as rapidly as we could wish, and the weather we've been having is a sample of what they are having in Europe, only more so. Truman's Hand-Shaking Has Passed 7000 Mark This Week

By Roger D. Greene

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(P)—President Truman's hand-shaking Marathon passed the 7,000 mark this week and now is headed down what you might picture as a harrowing homestretch.

You would be wrong. Mr. Truman sails along as smoothly as moonlight on the Wash-bash.

White House aides say his smile never flags, even amid the arduous duty of pumping hands hour after hour.

On Tuesday the President and his wife, "Bess," as Mrs. Truman signs her more intimate invitations, greeted 1,800 guests at the first army-navy reception in six years.

That marked the fifth in a series of six receptions scheduled by the President for the first post-war social season at the White House.

a plan for the future peace of the world as any ever devised. Will you help?

Robt. Fritz Has Retired

Robt. M. Fritz, painter helper at the local shops, last week retired from active service with the Missouri Pacific.

Mr. Fritz was honored at a special meeting held last week in the paint shop, when he was presented with a number of gifts by the men in the paint department. W. F. Schwenk, painter foreman, made the presentation with a few appropriate remarks. John Rush, painter, also made a short talk on Mr. Fritz, as did several others.

Mr. Fritz started working for the Missouri, Kansas, Texas railroad in 1902. After working for several years with this company he quit railroading and operated a delicatessen shop in Sedalia for several years. In June, 1923, he came to work at the local Missouri Pacific shops as a painter helper, where he remained since. During the recent war he worked as a painter. Mr. Fritz will be 69 years of age on June 18th this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz will continue to make Sedalia their home.

MRS. Clara E. Leslie, 1105 East Broadway, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss E. Maxine Leslie, to Mr. Dean M. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Walker, of Shelby, O.

Mrs. James M. Shields, Boonville, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her niece, Bernice Donahue, to Mr. Edward J. Oswald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Oswald, of Boonville.

The marriage will take place Tuesday morning, February 11, at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, Boonville.

Miss Betty Jo Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sharp of Route 5, Sedalia, and John R. Stacy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stacy, of 121 West Gay street, Warrensburg, were married at the home of the bride's parents, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the presence of relatives and close friends. Baskets of gladioli, huckleberry, and two seven-branch candelabra decorated the altar which formed the background for the ceremony.

Preceding the service, Miss Challis Johnson and Mrs. R. C. Hanes lighted the candles to the strains of "I Love Thee," Mrs. D. B. Decker sang "Always," followed by "Oh, Promise Me," sung by Billy Roberts, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Thomas.

While Mrs. Thomas played the wedding march, the matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Fry, and the bride descended the stairway where the bride was met at the foot by her father, who gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Fry wore a two-piece suit of turquoise blue and a corsage of pink roses. The bride was attired in a white gabardine suit with black accessories and her corsage was of talisman roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. James Stacy, served as best man. During the ceremony, "Lieberstraum" was played.

Mrs. Sharp, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy blue dress and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. J. J. Stacy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the guests. In the dining room a large bowl of snapdragons, white carnations, and white cathedral candles decorated the center of the table where there a three-tier wedding cake and groom. After the first piece was cut, Mrs. Paul E. Sharp and Miss Bea Gentry served the wedding cake, assisted by Mrs. David Mahnken and Miss Betty Ausman, who presided at the punch bowl.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a mint green suit with alligator shoes and matching bag as accessories.

She is a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school, a member of the "S" Club and Beta Sigma Phi business women's sorority.

The groom was graduated from Warrensburg Training high school. He enlisted in the army in 1940 and served thirty months in the European theater.

The groom is employed by the State of Missouri as state service officer of Pettis county. The bride is employed at the Union Savings bank. The couple will reside at 1114 West Fourth street after a week's wedding trip.

Misses Margaret Karigan, Bea Gentry, and Nadine Speiser were hostesses at a personal shower for Miss Sharp at the home of Miss Speiser, 1000 West Sixteenth street, Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

The house was decorated in a Valentine motif. The table was centered with a white cake, flanked on either side by red and white tapers. During the evening, bingo was played, with awards going to

Mr. and Mrs. John Stohr, the latter the former Miss Dorothy Cole, who were married at Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock last Monday morning. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, route 4, Sedalia and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob G. Stohr, route 1, Cole Camp. Mr. Stohr is employed at Montgomery Ward's. The couple are residing at 917 West Fifth street. (Lehmer Studio.)

Mrs. C. H. Speiser, Mrs. George Lockett, and Miss Grace Farley. The honoree received many lovely gifts.

Guests were: Mesdames Irwin Lehmer, Clyde Sharp, Ralph Haines, A. Maxwell, Donald Becker, Gene Arbuckle, Bryan Shoemaker, Della Williams, George Lockett, and C. H. Speiser, and Misses Betty Jo Sharp, Grace Farley, and Ruth Lower.

Miss Challis Johnson, of Beaman and Mrs. W. B. Hurt, 413 East Seventh street, entertained for Miss Sharp with a breakfast at the Hotel Bothwell last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Donald B. Decker entertained at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Saturday noon, at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. A. Maxwell, 2000 West Broadway, honoring Miss Sharp. Guests were: Misses Mary Ann Madorin, Margaret Karigan, Nadine Speiser, Bea Gentry, Challis Johnson and Betty Ausman, of Columbia, and Mrs. Ralph Haynes, of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Robert Fry, of Kansas City.

Miss Julia Schubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schubert, 307 East Fourth street, became the bride of Mr. Lawrence M. Riley, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at a nuptial mass at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The Rev. Father J. T. Nolan officiated.

Two baskets of flowers at the sanctuary steps and lighted candles and flowers on the altar, enhanced the beauty of the background for the marriage.

The bride, given away by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Rose Adkins, as matron

MISS Mary Eloise Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Elliott, Warrensburg, granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Elliott, Sedalia, who will be married next Sunday to Mr. Robert L. Hall. The ceremony will take place in Warrensburg.

MISS E. Maxine Leslie, 1105 East Broadway, whose engagement to Mr. Dean M. Walker, of Shelby, Ohio, has been announced.

MISS Bernice Donahue, of Boonville, whose marriage to Mr. Edward J. Oswald, of Boonville, will take place in that city Tuesday morning. Miss Donahue is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donahue, formerly of Sedalia.

MISS Jean Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Rice, 421 South Lamine street, Sedalia, has enrolled as a freshman in the college of liberal arts, Drake university, Des Moines.

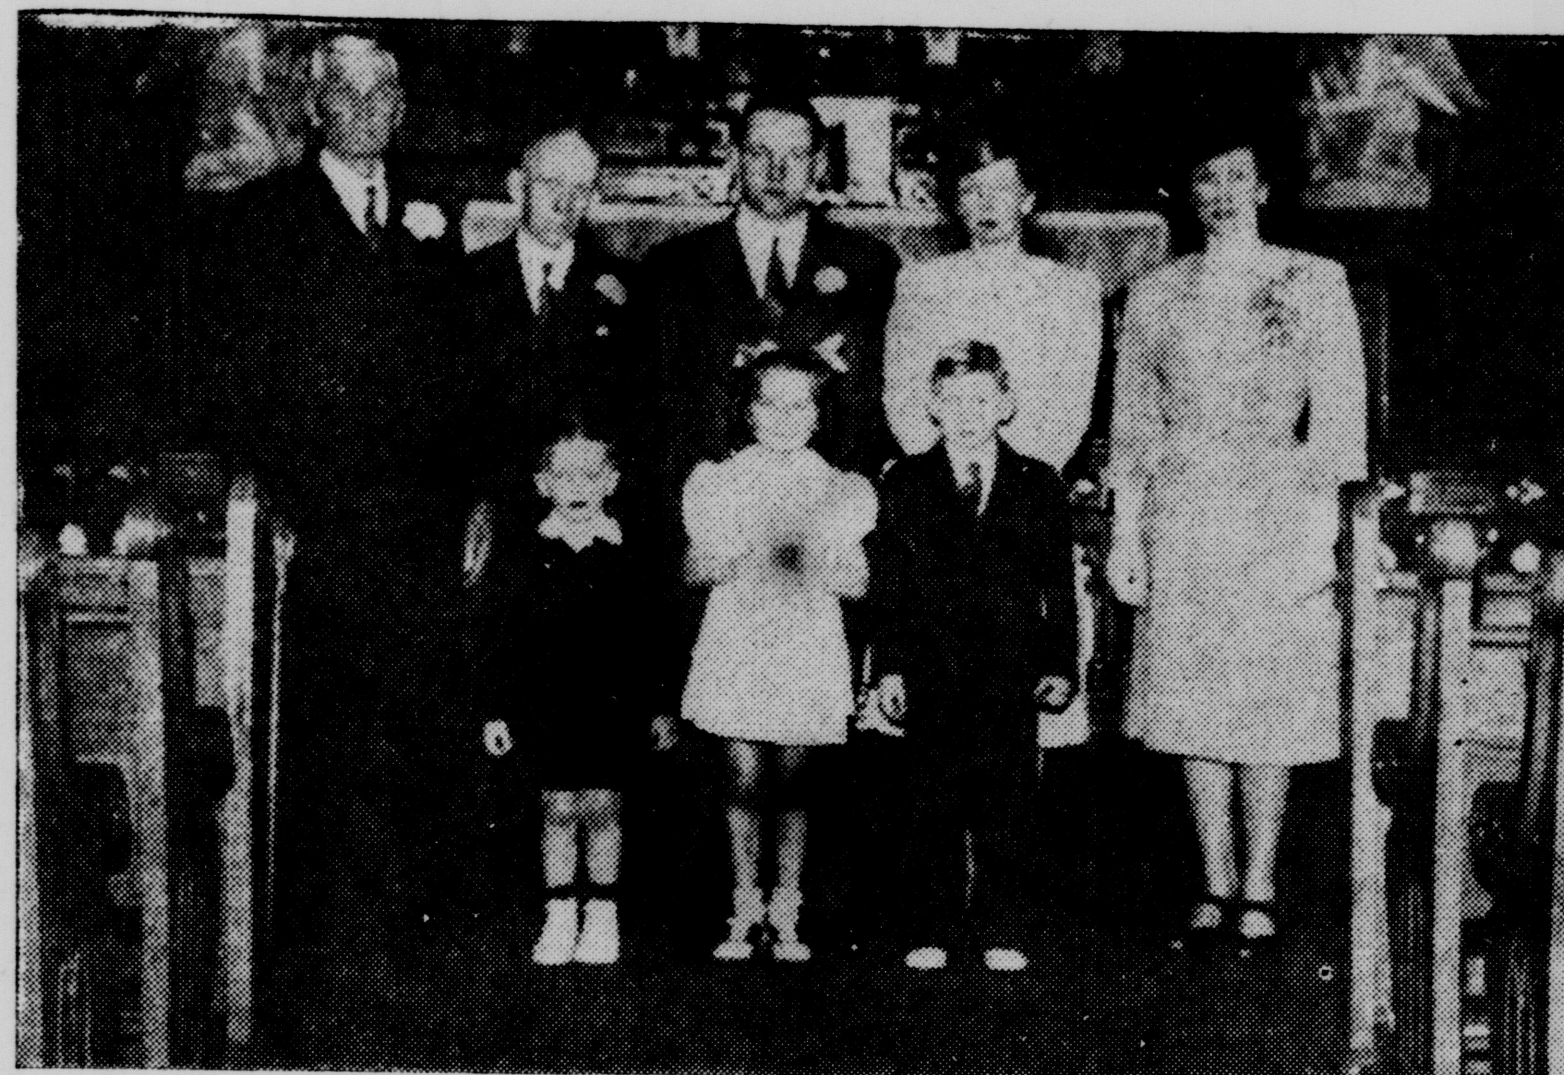

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Elliott, of Warrensburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Eloise, to Mr. Robert L. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hall, of Cassopolis, Mich. The marriage will take place at the Christian church in Warrensburg at 4 o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

Miss Elliott has been doing secretarial work in Kansas City the past two years. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Elliott, 911 1/2 South Ohio avenue.

Mr. Hall is a veteran of 40 months in the army. He served as a pilot on a B-20 bomber and completed 60 missions over Europe. He held the rank of first lieutenant, received the distinguished flying cross and ten oak leaf clusters.

THE Beta Tau Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi held its regular meeting Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. William Griffiths, 725 West Fourth street. Miss Bea Gentry, president of the chapter, presided over the business meeting. The chapter presented a gift to Miss Betty Jo Sharp, who was married Saturday evening, to Mr. John Stacy.

Mrs. J. A. Lamy, 500 South Grand avenue, has returned from a visit of several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Francis X. Mulvihill, and family, in Chicago, and with relatives and friends in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Riley (center) after their marriage at St. Patrick's church Saturday morning. On the bride's left is her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Rose Adkins, and on the groom's right are, first his father, Lawrence A. Riley, who was his attendant, then the bride's father, J. J. Schubert. Mrs. Riley is the former Miss Julia Schubert. Standing in front, left to right, are the bride's nephews and niece, Johnny Adkins, Gloria Marie Robb and Dell Adkins. (Democrat-Capitol Staff Photo)

MISS Jean Hulse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Hulse, 720 West Broadway, who is a student at Christian college in Columbia, is spending the week end in Sedalia, and has as her guests, Miss Joan Wilkes of Paducah, Ky., and Miss Barbara Allsop, of Marion, O. Friday night Miss Hulse was hostess at a slumber party. Guests included Miss Jane McCurdy, of Williamette, Conn., Miss Marty Craigie of Chawawa, Mexico, and Miss Patsy Smoot, of Marion, O., all house guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hanley, 906 West Seventh street, for the week end. At one o'clock Saturday Miss Hulse entertained at a luncheon, at her home, with guests the girls mentioned before, and Miss Barbara Roberts, and her house guest, Miss Ann Leininger, of Detroit, Mich.

The Pettis So-Mor-Circle, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet Wednesday, February 12, at 2:00 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Fred Wertz, 814 West Fifth street, with Mrs. Charles Kilbury, Mrs. Ed Bybee, Mrs. P. G. Austin, Mrs. C. N. Avin and Mrs. Charles T. Plunlee as assisting hostesses.

MRS. Victor Scott, was entertained at luncheon Friday afternoon at one o'clock, by several friends, in celebration of her birthday. After luncheon, the group went to the home of Mrs. Chester Wright, 1500 West Broadway, where the afternoon was spent in playing Mah Jongg. Awards for high score went to Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. Lawrence Barnett, and Mrs. Fred Hulse. The group presented Mrs. Scott with a gift.

Those present were: Mesdames Lawrence Barnett, M. C. Abeles, Fred Hulse, E. V. Walker, Harold Dean, Paul Hedderich, John C. McLaughlin, Heber Hunt, George H. Scruton, George H. Trader, W. P. Hurley, Victor Scott, J. C. Griffin, and C. A. Wright. Those invited, but unable to attend, were: Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Howard Roberts, and Mrs. Hugo Spahn.

Mrs. V. L. Abney was surprised at a birthday party in her honor in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Dey, 819 East Eleventh street, Monday evening.

Rev. Swan Talks To Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit to Post No. 16 met in regular session at Parish hall, Monday at eight o'clock, with Mrs. Alice White, unit president presiding. The initiation planned for this meeting was postponed until a later date.

Mrs. White appointed the dinner committee for the Legion anniversary party to be held in Convention hall Monday, March 17. Rev. L. A. Swan, a former chaplain in the United States Armed Forces, and a member of Post No. 16, gave a talk on "Alaska and Americanism."

He said, "Americanism is a spirit of devotion and loyalty which leads us to think more of the welfare of a group than our personal interest."

Mrs. W. C. Askew and Mrs. A. E. Duff were on the refreshment committee. They also furnished a social hour.

Shop Notes

W. J. Knight, of Chicago, is spending the week-end visiting with his family here. Mr. Knight is coach shop foreman at the local shops, now on leave and is stationed in Chicago at the Pullman shops, where they are building a total of 47 new streamline passenger equipment for the Missouri Pacific and the Texas & Pacific railroads. Mr. Knight is looking after the interests of the Missouri Pacific during the building of these cars, which is expected to be completed in the late summer.

George Hull, assistant coach shop foreman, is taking care of Mr. Knight's duties at the local shop, and Harry Burford assigned to Mr. Hull's duties.

C. E. Beasley, production engineer, is spending the week-end visiting with his family in Kansas City.

H. S. Marsh, general car inspector for the Missouri Pacific, was at the local shops last week on business.

Missouri Pacific locomotives 146 and 150 were released for service last week after undergoing a general overhauling at the local shops.

G. L. Smith, machinist inspector, is taking a two weeks vacation. C. M. Stratton, machinist, is taking care of Smith's duties at the shops.

C. T. Callender, mechanical superintendent, was a business visitor at the local shops last week.

Harry Burford, assistant coach shop foreman, last week entered the Veterans hospital at Wadsworth, Kas., for a physical check-up. He is expected to return home sometime this week.

J. J. Driskell has returned from the company hospital in St. Louis, where he was a patient. He is getting along satisfactory, but his return to work is not definite.

Principals in Marshall-Walker Wedding Party

Miss Pearl Walker, of Independence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brockman, Spring Fork, and Harold Marshall, son of Mrs. J. A. Marshall, Windsor, were married January 1 at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jimmie L. Moffett, and Mr. Moffett, in Independence. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Lawrence Holzchuh in a setting of palms and red roses.

Miss Dorothy Luke played a number of accordion selections, and Miss Kathryn Brockman, Spring Fork, sang "Always" (Berlin). Mrs. June Brown, Kansas City, lighted the tapers, as Miss Luke played "I Love You Truly" (Bond).

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an aqua suit with black accessories and carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and red roses with satin streamers.

Mrs. Wilma Snodgrass, Liberal, Mo., was matron of honor. She wore a coral dress with black accessories, with a carnation corsage. Miss Kathryn Brockman, Spring Fork, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gold dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

C. F. Cronhardt, Knob Noster, was best man, and Don Marshall, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Billie Brockman was usher.

Dorothy June Kellner, Sedalia, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in pink and blue and wore a carnation corsage. The rings were carried by Sonny Bunnell, Windsor, nephew of the bridegroom.

A reception followed the ceremony. Acting hostesses were Mrs. Mary Schwendt, Mrs. June Brown and Mrs. Mary Brockman.

The bride was honored at a shower December 2, given by Mrs. Bessie Corson and Mrs. Mary Schwendt.

Mrs. Marshall has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company in Independence. Mr. Marshall is an engineer for the Phillips Petroleum Company at Leaton, Mo. The couple is at home at 414 Mulberry street, Warrensburg.

The Friendship class of the Fifth Street Methodist church will meet at the church for its monthly meeting Thursday, February 15, at 2 o'clock.

Approximately 75 mystery mothers and their mystery children attended the Valentine party given by the W.S.C.S. of the Epworth Methodist church, Wednesday evening.

The church basement was decorated with large red hearts suspended from the ceiling and crepe paper streamers. A large table in the center of the room was covered with a white linen cloth scalloped with red crepe paper which was decorated with lace paper doilies and Valentine symbols. In the center of the table was a Valentine box in which were gifts for the young people from their mystery mothers. The mothers also received gifts from the children.

The group was divided into two teams, the reds led by Dan Walz and the whites, led by Betty Joan Harrel, and they participated in games. The whites were high scorers and received a jar of red candy hearts.

Refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served by the committee of which Mrs. Walter Jessee was chairman.

Mrs. J. Lawrence Dyer, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Knox and Mrs. Rick Fullerton, directed the games and Valentine box.

Sport Scraps

A bill to assist recreation in Missouri, has been introduced before the State Legislature, by Representative Bruno Sendlein of St. Louis. It is known as House Bill No. 50. The bill will do much to assist various communities in Missouri to carry on with a well planned recreation program, through a plan of taxation.

The bill is headed: "To authorize counties, cities, incorporated towns and villages and school districts to establish, operate and maintain systems of public recreation and to acquire, establish, develop, conduct and maintain parks, playgrounds and other appropriate general county, city, incorporated towns or villages or school districts therefore: To levy a special tax and vote bonds therefor: Defining the powers of such counties, cities, incorporated towns and villages and school districts in connection with all such matters: and providing for the creation of a recreation board or commission, the election and term of the members thereof, and the powers thereof."

The House Bill provides, "that such board, commission or governing body may provide, establish, develop, operate, maintain, and conduct a system of public recreation, including parks and other recreation grounds, playgrounds, recreation centers, swimming pools and any and all other recreation areas, facilities and activities; by purchase, gift, lease, condemnation, bond issue, exchange or otherwise; dedicate or set apart for such and provide for their development, conduct, equipment and maintenance; may set up in their respective budget, funds to be spent for such purpose. Any such governing body or political subdivision may levy annually for such purposes, in the manner provided by law:

"PROVIDED, HOWEVER that in case sufficient funds cannot be made available from ordinary levies, additional funds may be raised by a special tax levy not to exceed two mills on each dollar of all property subject to its taxing powers or by levies other than ad valorem taxes, as provided by Section 11 of Article X of the Constitution of Missouri."

Now it appears that sponsors of the bill are seeking out those who are interested in Recreation. If you are interested in such and believe it will benefit not only Sedalia but other communities you are requested to drop a Representative Sendlein at Room 410, State Capitol Building, Jefferson City.

I note that the Parks and Recreation board of the Jefferson City Park Board are interested in the bill and have endorsed it. My good friend Ben C. Porter, Director of the Jefferson City Board, under a circular has sent copies of the bill to various persons interested in Recreation.

According to Ben the bill was recommended by the children's Code Commission and was endorsed at the recent State and local organizations. Porter writes, it is permissive. It provides broad authority to suit varying local conditions and needs. It implements the provisions of the new constitution.

If it is for the betterment of recreation, Ben will certainly be strong for it, and knowing Ben's attitude toward recreation, I personally believe it to be a worthwhile bill.

HERE in Sedalia, we have had a most excellent program under the supervision of the Sedalia Board of Education, and Albert Steiner, who has headed the summer playground activities, has done some wonderful work. However, if this could be of any assistance in broadening the local situation, then I hope the Bill is passed.

It has been brought to my attention only recently that Sedalia's summer playground program is considered one of the best in the state for a city of its size. In fact it has become more or less a model for other towns to follow.

On the other hand I can see bigger possibilities in a program which actually has better financial support. The Board of Education has done a great job in sponsoring the program, but the Board can go only so far.

1947 Semi-Pro Tourney May Be Held Here

Fred Rose Is Named Ass't Commissioner To Handle Tourney

The 1947 Semi-Pro baseball tournament for Missouri has excellent chances of being played in Sedalia. The 1946 tournament met with success and C. C. Rowe, State Commissioner was in Sedalia the past week to ascertain if Sedalia wants the tournament again.

He also announced the appointment of Fred Rose, Chief Booster at the Missouri Pacific shops as Assistant State Commissioner, providing the tournament is played in Sedalia. The appointment has met with the approval of Ray Dumont, president of the National Baseball Congress, which sponsors semi-pro baseball throughout the world.

MoPac Booster Club Sponsors

Mr. Rose in accepting the appointment announced he would make a definite announcement as to whether Sedalia accepts the tournament within the next few days. The question is not as to a sponsorship, as the Booster Club has asked and been promised this part in the tournament, but on financial arrangements.

Several towns have bid for the tournament, included among them being Jefferson City, Moberly, Springfield, Kansas City, and St. Louis, but due to the central location of Sedalia, the first opportunity to get the tournament was placed in the hands of the Booster Club. It is a known fact that last summer when the tournament was played in Sedalia several thousands of dollars were spent here by members of the twenty-six baseball clubs, members of their families, and fans from outside of Sedalia.

Tentative Dates Set

Tentative dates have been set for the tournament whether played here or elsewhere, starting July 18 and playing all right games except on Sunday afternoons, and ending on Sunday July 27 with a double header night game. It is anticipated sixteen to twenty teams will be in the playing schedule, thus cutting down some of the teams through district eliminations.

Last season Emery Ellsworth was Assistant Commissioner, but stated he had too many other obligations to handle which would interfere with his work in acting as Assistant Commissioner this season. However, Ellsworth, Saturday, stated "I will do everything in my power to assist and see that it is success and pledge my full support to Mr. Rose in his work."

S-C Tigers Win Hot Game With Hannibal

Victory 43-41 Puts Them In Tie For Conference Lead

The Hannibal high school defeated Columbia at Columbia Saturday night by a score of 42 to 25. Winning of this game gives a tie to Hannibal and Smith-Cotton in the Central Missouri Conference. Both teams have one more game to be played before the full conference schedule has been completed.

The Smith Cotton Tigers squeaked into a tie-up for the Conference, by trouncing the Hannibal squad on the Smith-Cotton court Friday evening, by 2 points with a final score of 43 to 41.

Both teams got off to a slow start, with the score at the end of the first quarter Smith Cotton 7, Hannibal 4. At the half the Hannibal team took the lead, 13 to 11. Neither team seemed to be playing good ball till the third quarter when the scoring got closer and tighter. It seemed both teams had held their energy until the last stanza, in which the score was tied up 35 to 35 and then it seemed the players were going to play their heart out. The large crowd in attendance were on their feet the last few minutes of play with a field goal for one team and then the other team matching it. With only one minute to play and the score in favor of Hannibal 41 to 39, it was either team's game. But one of the Hannibal boys fumbled the ball and the Tigers "took over," making it 41 to 41. Tipton in the last fifteen seconds of play sank a field goal to put the Tigers in the lead by two points. Hannibal didn't have the time to make another goal.

Thomas High Pointer

The high point man for the victors was Thomas with a total of 22 points. For Hannibal it was Miller with 14.

This victory tied up the conference leadership with Hannibal with Smith Cotton winning 7 out of 8 games, and Hannibal 6 out of 7. The Hannibal squad defeated the Smith Cotton team January 10 at Hannibal counting for their loss and the come back Friday evening to defeat Hannibal for their only loss.

The box score: Smith Cotton FG FT P TP Miller, F. 10 20 0 14 Keyes, F. 5 10 0 8 Tipton, G. 2 0 0 4 Bergman, F. 1 0 0 3 Totals 18 30 0 46 Substitutes: Brown, Walker and Waters. Coaches: Rogers.

Hannibal FG FT P TP Miller, F. 5 10 0 14 Keyes, F. 2 0 0 4 Tipton, G. 2 0 0 4 Taylor, G. 3 1 1 7 Young, F. 1 0 0 2 Totals 13 11 1 31 Referee: Whiteman, Workman; scorer, Ryckman. Coach: Winn.

Harry Todd Leads In The Texas Open

Jimmy Demaret One Stroke Behind at The Halfway Mark

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 8.—(P)—Big Blond Harry Todd of Dallas came out of the gathering dusk today with a par-shattering 34-29-63 to take over the lead at the halfway mark in the $10,000 Texas open with a 36-hole total of 129.

Todd's red-hot shotmaking exhibition, one stroke shy of the 18-hole competitive scoring record, left the unattached Dallas professional blow in front of smiling Jimmy Demaret from Ojai, Calif., who had a 68 today after tearing apart the 6,400-yard par 71 Crackerenridge Park municipal course to top the opening round with a record-equaling 62.

Ed (Porky) Oliver, of Wilmington, Del., who finished so late he had to use matches to locate the cup on the last two holes, checked in with a 31-33-64 to tie Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C., two strokes off the page at 131. Worsham, who had a 66 opening round, shot 34-31-65 today.

Fred Haas, Jr., elongated New Orleans, La., par-buster, checked in with 31-34-65 to go with his opening round 68 for a 36-hole total of 133, one strike in front of Jim Ferrier, Chicago, Ill.; Vic Ghezzi, Knoxville, Tenn., and Denby Shute, Akron, O., who were grouped at 134.

Given ideal playing conditions, the star-studded field tore apart with reckless abandon. No less than 47 players were regulars on a better for the 36-hole distance. Defending Champion Ben Hogan, from Hershey, Pa., who got caught on the course in a blue Texas northern yesterday and soared to a 75, came back with a 34-33-67 today for a 36-hole total of 142. A score of 145 was needed to qualify for the final 36-holes Sunday.

"Mole" Keithley To Coach Freshmen Sports at Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 8.—(P)—Appointment of Newton A. (Mole) Keithley, former University of Tulsa football star and now coach at Miami, Okla., high school as coach of all freshmen sports at Tulsa was announced today by Head Coach J. O. (Buddy) Brothers.

The appointment is effective March 1. Keithley's return to his alma mater will mark reestablishment of freshmen football and other first-year sports at the University after a wartime lapse.

"YOU'VE ADDED YEARS TO YOUR CAR'S LIFE BY USING OUR SERVICE EVERY 30 DAYS"

Now's the Time to Get FORD PROTECTIVE SERVICE

Today, thousands of Ford owners have their cars serviced according to the calendar instead of the speedometer. The reason is simple—some cars are driven a lot, others are given but little mileage each month. Both, however, require regular servicing.

Ford Protective Service is the best method we know to make sure cars get regular, systematic attention by expert mechanics. Regardless of car mileage, it provides an automatic check-up every 30 days.

Let us show you how Ford Protective Service will make your car run better, last longer and cost you less to operate. See us today!

USED CARS—Buying or selling a used car, you'll do better to do business with us. Our stocks are hand-picked, our prices are right and our GUARANTEE assures lasting satisfaction.

Power To Back U. S. Policy

By John M. Hightower
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(P) In his first major policy declaration as Secretary of State, Gen. George C. Marshall Friday called for universal military training to back up American foreign policy with real power.

He said there can be no disarmament until effective international security is worked out through the United Nations based on "solutions acceptable to the great powers of the tremendous issues" involved.

Furthermore, Marshall virtually declared a great counter-campaign of truth against Russian propaganda. He did not actually identify the propaganda as Russian, but other state department leaders have been assailing Soviet propaganda.

Backing up the international

Three Children Lose Lives In A Fire

VINITA, Okla., Feb. 8—(P)—Three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett were burned to death early Friday when fire destroyed their 12-room farm home seven miles south of here.

The dead are Elizabeth Angeline, 11, Violet Maxine, 9, and Dora Mae, 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, together with six other Bennett children and Bennett's brother, Ross Bennett and a cousin, Arthur Heard, escaped from the blazing frame house.

The three children who lost their lives were sleeping in one bed in a downstairs room, where the fire was believed to have started from a small heater which was left burning.

no major personnel changes until after the Moscow conference.

Pacific Islands
The United States sees no reason to postpone creating a United Nations trusteeship under American administration. A postponement until after the Japanese peace settlements has been suggested by Russia, Britain and Australia. Marshall said Ambassador Austin will present the plan to the U. N. about Feb. 17.

Follow Byrnes Policy
He made clear that he intends to follow the foreign policy of former Secretary James F. Byrnes, and hit these high points of great issues he faces in his own career:

Universal Training
Marshall said the United States will not have any real, positive military power to back up its foreign policy unless it has universal military training. He called the present system impractical and ineffective. President Truman has a commission studying the question and probably will send recommendations to Congress in April.

Disarmament
Marshall said it is difficult to see how "any real disarmament," or even any substantial reductions of armament can take place until peace treaty solutions acceptable to the great powers have been reached. Marshall sharply disagreed with the Russian view that atomic energy control can be taken up as a part of disarmament.

Moscow Conference
Marshall revealed the Soviet government has said it can not admit more than 15 or 20 American correspondents for the conference although 73 have applied. He is asking the Soviets to increase the number and "we are also endeavoring to obtain broadcasting facilities for correspondents."

Poland
While emphasizing the United States intends to maintain its diplomatic mission in Warsaw although it disapproves the election which produced the present Polish government, Marshall announced that Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane "will be returning in the near future" to report.

Argentina
The tough insistence that Argentina rid itself of Nazi influences and refugees as stated by Byrnes a year ago remains in effect, Marshall announced.

Changes in the reciprocal trade program to be made by the administration rather than by Congress were suggested today by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Millikin (R-Colo). Marshall said their statement indicates a bipartisan attitude in economic as well as political foreign policy. He declared the modification they suggested will receive very careful consideration.

State Department
Marshall disclosed he had rejected the resignations of assistant secretaries Benton, Spruille Braden and Willard Thorp and those offered by all other top officials. He knocked down reports of any drastic reorganization of the department. He made clear he wants
